Which was agreed to.

When the General Assembly of the State of Indiana was opened with prayer, by the Rev. Dr. Holliday.

After which his Excellency, the Governor, delivered the following Message in the presence of both Houses :

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

The Constitution provides that, if in the opinion of the Governor the public welfare shall require it, he may at any time, by proclamation, call a special session of the General Assembly. The provision of the organic law of the State rendering the regular sessions of the Legislature biennial, and limiting them to the term of sixty-one days, the condition of parties in this State during the last four years, and the public excitement incident to a state of war, unfitting, as it did, to some extent, the minds of men for the calm consideration of subjects of ordinary legislation, have all contributed to prevent the adoption of legislative measures which the progress of the State and the welfare of the people would seem to demand.

At the last session of the General Assembly many important bills were introduced, but failed in the different stages of their progress for want of time to perfect and pass them. That the time spent on these unperfected measures might not be lost to the public, an act was passed providing that the business of any regular or special session of the General Assembly, on the calendar or files of either House, and remaining unfinished at the expiration of such session, shall, at the next succeeding special session of the same General Assembly, be transferred to the calendar of the House in which it was pending, in the same order in which such business stood at the termination of such regular or special session, and shall be taken up and disposed of in the same manner it might have been taken up and disposed of at such preceding regular or special session. The considerations before mentioned, the fact that the unfinished business of the last session, upon which much intelligent labor had been bestowed, could only be saved by re-convening the General Assembly in special session, and the belief that measures of vital importance demanded legislative action before the time fixed for the next regular session, have caused me to issue the proclamation, in pursuance of which you are now assembled.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The amount of the public debt of the State, consisting of two and a-half and five per cent. registered stocks, is seven million four hundred and eighteen thousand nine hundred and sixty dollars and fifty cents, ($7,418,960 50). Of this amount the sum of five millions three hundred and forty-two thousand five hundred dollars ($5,342,500) is five per cent., and the sum of two millions seventy-six thousand four hundred and sixty dollars and fifty cents ($2,076,460 50) is two and a-half per cent. stock; that is, stocks upon which interest is paid at these rates.

Of these stocks the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund have purchased and now hold the sum of four hundred and forty-six thousand six hundred and seventy-two dollars and sixty-seven cents ($446,672 67) of the five per cents, and the sum of fifty-one thousand two hundred and seventy-two dollars and fifty cents ($51,272 50) of the two and a-half per cents.

The State Debt Sinking Fund has purchased and now holds seven hundred and eighty-eight thousand and thirty-five dollars ($788,035) of the five per cents, and ninety-six thousand nine hundred dollars (96,900) of the two and a-half per cents.

The aggregate amount of what the State holds, through these two funds, is one million two hundred and thirty-four thousand seven hundred and seven dollars and sixty-seven cents ($1,234,707 67) of the five per cent. stocks, and one hundred and forty-eight thousand one hundred and seventy-two dollars and fifty cents ($148,172 50) of the two and a-half per cents; in all, one million three hundred and eighty-two thousand eight hundred and eighty dollars and seventeen cents, ($1,382,880 17), leaving outstanding in the hands of the creditors of the State the amount of six millions thirty-six thousand and eighty dollars and thirty-three cents, ($6,036,080 33,) of which four millions one hundred and seven thousand seven hundred and ninety-two dollars and thirty-three cents ($4,107,792 33) are five per cents, and one million nine hundred and twenty-eight thousand two hundred and eighty-eight dollars ($1,928,288) are two and a-half per cents.

The face of the stock, or the certificates of indebtedness, provide that "this stock is redeemable at any time after twenty years from the 19th day of January, 1846, at the pleasure of the State; and until redeemed is transferable upon surrender in the city of New York, in books provided for that purpose by the Agent of State, there resident, by endorsement thereon, and according to such other rules and forms as are or may be prescribed for that purpose. And for the payment of the interest and redemption of the principal aforesaid, the faith of the State of Indiana is irrevocably pledged."

The twenty years referred to will expire on the 19th day of January next, and the question first to be considered is whether these stocks fall due at that time, and whether the contract made by the State requires that payment shall be made on that day. By some it has been urged that the words "at the pleasure of the State," are to be treated as surplusage, and the money held to fall due precisely at the end of the twenty years. In support of this view it is argued that because a State can not be compelled to pay her debts by legal process, the payment will in all cases be "at the pleasure of the State." I fail to perceive the force of this, and must hold that the language in question means just what it says, that the State may consult her own convenience as to the time of making payment, unless there is something in the history of the transaction, out of which this form of indebtedness sprang, or something contained in the law creating it, which requires that a different construction should be put upon the language. The naked legal effect of the instrument, if not modified by history or provisions of the statute creating it, I take to be this: That until the end of the twenty years the State has no right to require the creditors to take their money, and thus stop the payment of the interest, but that the money was to be paid at some time after the end of the twenty years, according to the pleasure and convenience of the State. But this pleasure of the State must be reasonably exercised, so as not to defeat the payment of the principal sum absolutely. The construction I have heard contended for, that the State may defer the payment of the principal twenty-five, fifty, or one hundred years, or in fact forever, provided the interest is promptly paid, can not be maintained; for that would be to defeat the operation of the concluding sentence of the instrument, above quoted, which solemnly pledges the good faith of the State for the payment of the principal as well as the interest. This solemn pledge would be a nullity if the State was at liberty to defer the payment of the principal forever, or indefinitely, by the prompt payment of the interest.

The next question to be considered is, whether there is anything in the statutes creating this stock, or in the history of the whole transaction, showing the intention of the parties as to the time when the principal should be paid, or pointing to a period beyond which the State would have no right to defer its payment.

On the 1st of July, 1846, the State was indebted upon bonds issued and sold for purposes of internal improvement, in the sum of eleven millions and ninety thousand dollars, ($11,090,000). On these bonds the interest had not been paid since 1841. The interest due and in arrears amounted to three millions fifty-five thousand four hundred and thirty dollars, ($3,055,430).

These bonds were issued between the years 1832 and 1842, were of different denominations, and were to run for twenty-five and thirty years, and bore interest at the rate of five, six, and seven per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, for which there were coupons signed and attached to the bonds. The State finding herself unable to pay the interest on her indebtedness, accepted of a proposition made by her creditors, the details of which will be found embodied in the act of January, 1846, and the supplementary act of January, 1847, which, taken together, constitute what is generally known as the "Butler bill." By the compromise and settlement, as finally concluded in the supplemental act of 1847, the Wabash and Erie Canal, together with the lands which had been granted to the State to aid in its construction, were transferred, the canal in perpetuity, and the lands in fee simple, to certain trustees in trust for the bondholders, in absolute payment and discharge of one-half the principal and accrued interest of the debt, which half thenceforward and forever ceased to be a liability against the State or a charge upon her revenues. The bondholders, upon their part, agreed to make such additional subscriptions as might be necessary to complete the canal to Evansville, estimated at eight hundred thousand dollars, ($800,000), which condition was complied with on their part, and the Canal so completed. For the other half of the debt, principal and interest, the State was to issue to the bondholders certificates of indebtedness or stock. Upon such stock, issued for the principal sum, the State was to pay interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, semi-annually. The interest in arrears from 1841 to 1847 was funded, and interest on the aggregate thus funded was calculated at the rate of two and a half per cent. per annum from January 1, 1847, to January 1, 1853, and added to it, and for the whole amount stocks were issued, bearing interest at the rate of two and a half per cent. per annum from the 1st day of January, 1853, payable semi-annually. The arrangement was a complicated one, involving many details which it is not necessary to give here, and I shall only present a very brief outline.

The act of 1846 was, in many important respects, modified and amended by the supplementary act of 1847, and the two together constitute the basis and consideration upon which the creditors released the State from all liability for one-half the principal and interest of the debt.

The first section of the act of 1846 concludes in these words :

“And provided further, That if the revenues of the State, up to the first day of January, 1853, to be derived from a property tax of twenty-five cents on every one hundred dollars of value, and a poll tax of seventy-five cents, shall not, by reason of the taxes being paid in six per centum treasury notes, or from other causes, be sufficient, after defraying the current expenses of the Government, to pay said rate of interest of two per centum, then and in that case, the State shall only be required to pay, up to said first day of January, 1853, such rate of interest as the par funds in her treasury, derived from the taxation aforesaid, shall enable her to do ; which shall be paid and distributed, pro rata, on the principal specified in such certificate of stock, and the deficit, with six per centum interest per annum from the time it became due, the State shall and will make up and pay to the holders of such certificates on or by the first day of January, 1853.”

It will be perceived that this section does not, in direct terms, make a levy of twenty-five cents on every one hundred dollars of value, and of seventy-five cents on each poll ; but it evidently proceeds upon the hypothesis that such a tax shall be levied and continued for a series of years. The act, of which this section is a part, was reported to the Legislature by the Hon. Henry Secrest, Chairman of a Special Joint Committee, to whom the subject had been referred. He accompanied the bill with a report from the Committee, from which I extract the following passage :

“By reference to the tables appended to the second proposition of Mr. Butler, it will be seen that, if the taxables in the State shall increase at the rate of $6,000,000 a year in value, (which is a moderate estimate), a tax of twenty-five cents on the hundred dollars, and seventy-five cents poll, will afford the means of paying the State expenses, absorbing all the six per cent. treasury notes, and paying two per cent. interest upon the public debt up to the year 1853; and from and after that time paying the State expenses and two and a-half per cent. upon the entire funded debt of the State, including back interest and deficiencies of interest; and not only so, but that the proceeds of the same tax would, in addition, produce an annually increasing surplus, to be set apart for the absorption of the principal of the public debt; which surplus, for the single year 1860, would be about $140,000."

From this it clearly appears to have been contemplated by the Committee that a continuing tax of twenty-five cents on every one hundred dollars, and seventy-five cents poll, was to be assessed for the payment of the principal and interest of the debt, and reference is made to certain tables which had been prepared by Mr. Butler, going to show what would be accomplished by such a tax, estimating the increase of the polls to be six thousand per year, and the increase of taxable property at six millions of dollars per year, and carrying the calculation as far down as 1860. Mr. Butler's calculation, however, turned out to be greatly erroneous, inasmuch as the ordinary expenses of the State Government were estimated too low, and the increase of taxable property from 1846 to 1864, averaged nearly twenty-one millions of dollars, instead of only six millions per annum. On the next day after the passage of this bill, and apparently in pursuance of its provisions, the Legislature passed an act making a general levy, for State purposes, of seventy-five cents poll, and twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars' worth of property.

In the supplementary act of the next year, 1847, the following provision will be found contained in the fourteenth section:

"And whereas, doubts have been suggested on the part of some such last mentioned persons, (foreigners holding bonds), in respect of the matters hereinafter mentioned or referred to, which doubts may operate prejudicially to the operations contemplated by the said recited act, and it is therefore expedient that the same be removed; now, to demonstrate the good faith of the State of Indiana, and for the removal of all such doubts as aforesaid, and with the view to create general confidence in the arrangement made in the said recited act by the State for the liquidation of its debt:

"Be it enacted, That the tolls, revenues and profits, of the said Canal and its appurtenances, present and future, and the moneys to arise and be collected by and from the sales of the land and premises contiguous thereto, and in the said act more particularly mentioned and described, and the personal taxes to be levied toward the payment of the said debt, as in the said act also mentioned, and the receipt and application thereof for that purpose, as in the same act is also provided, shall remain and be inviolate and in full force, and the payment of the principal moneys and interest on the certificates and stock intended to be created pursuant to the said act, and this act, and all certificates and evidences of the title thereof, respectively, shall be and continue effectual and inviolate by the means aforesaid, until the objects and purposes of the said act, and this present act, shall be fully accomplished."

The only taxes referred to in the act of 1846, were the seventy-five cents poll and the twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property, and by this section the good faith of the State is solemnly pledged that the said taxes shall be maintained inviolate and in full force, and the proceeds thereof faithfully applied to the payment of the principal and interest of the stocks created in pursuance of the act of 1846. The substance of this pledge, and of the understanding entertained by the Legislature on the one hand, and the bondholders on the other, may be briefly stated as this: That a tax of seventy-five cents on each poll, and twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars of property, should be continuously levied, and that, after defraying the ordinary expenses of the State Government, and paying the interest on the debt, the surplus proceeds should be applied to the liquidation of the principal sum.

The new Constitution, which was framed in 1850, three years after the passage of this act, contains the following provision:

Section 2, Article X.: "All the revenues derived from the sale of any of the public works belonging to the State, and from the net annual income thereof, and any surplus that may at any time remain in the Treasury, derived from taxation for general State purposes after the payment of the ordinary expenses of the government, and of the interest on bonds of the State, other than bank bonds, shall be annually applied, under the direction of the General Assembly, to the payment of the principal of the public debt."

This provision evidently contemplates the speedy payment of the public debt, and the existence of an annual surplus to arise from general taxation for State purposes, and imperatively commands the annual application of such surplus to the liquidation of the public debt.

To show the views entertained by the committee who prepared the section, I will present in full the report by which it was accompanied when it was laid before the Convention :

“The Committee on State Debt and Public Works, to whom was referred sundry resolutions, directing them to inquire into the expediency of appropriating all the revenues derived from the sale of any of the public works belonging to the State, and from the net income thereof, and also any surplus that may at any time remain in the treasury derived from taxation for general State purposes, after the payment of the ordinary expenditures, have had the same under consideration, and having come to the conclusion that the entire debt of the State will be paid within fifteen years, by a continuation of the rate of taxation prescribed by law, have directed me to report the accompanying section, to be engrafted in the new Constitution, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subjects embraced in said resolutions.”

This report was submitted by Judge Hall, of Gibson county, one of the most eminent lawyers in the State, and is so explicit in regard to the understanding of the committee that the tax was to be continued, and that it would pay the debt by 1865, that it leaves no room to doubt as to the purpose for which the constitutional provision was introduced.

Afterwards, on the 25th day of January, 1851, this provision came up in the Convention for consideration, when Mr. Howe, of Lagrange, offered to amend by adding the following clause, not as a substitute, but additional :

“That a specific tax of fifty thousand dollars, with an annual increase of five per cent., be levied for twenty-five years, and expended each year in the purchase of our State bonds, unless the State debt is sooner paid off.”

In support of his amendment he used the following language :

“It is very probable that the present rate and method of taxation guaranteed in what is commonly called the Butler Bill, will be observed; but even if that taxation affords a fund for the payment of the debt, this will enable us to pay it off sooner. Besides our public debt was contracted chiefly for the benefit of property, and property should pay it.

Mr. Borden then said :

“I desire to make an inquiry of my friend from Gibson (Mr. Hall), whether the section now under consideration provides that any overplus of the taxes arising from the imposition of twenty-five cents tax on the hundred dollars valuation, shall be applied to the definite object of liquidating the principal of our outstanding State debt after the payment of the interest on the debt?"

In answer to this question, Judge Hall said :

"The arrangement, and only arrangement, with our bondholders, was under the acts of 1846 and 1847, by which twenty-five cents on every hundred dollars worth of taxable property, and seventy-five cents poll tax, were pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of the public debt until it shall be entirely paid. According to a calculation made, if this system of taxation shall be continued, in eighteen years the entire public debt will be paid off. The committee of which I am chairman, having charge of the subject, believing that there was a propriety in placing it beyond the power of the Legislature to violate the pledged faith of the State, instructed me to introduce a section providing that the twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property, and seventy-five cents poll tax, should be annually assessed until the debt was paid. This section was laid upon the table, and, I think, inconsiderately. I think the matter should be placed beyond the power of change by the Legislature."

Mr. Borden then replied as follows :

"Sir, on a previous occasion, I desired that this should be done; because I know that this is the wish of the people I have been sent here to represent. They do not want the subject to be left with the Legislature. They are willing to carry out in good faith the arrangement made with the bondholders of the State, and to pay twenty-five cents tax upon every one hundred dollars valuation, until the State debt is extinguished; and they desire that a clause shall be inserted in the Constitution which shall secure the application of this overplus to the extinguishment of the principal of the State debt."

Mr. Stevenson then followed, opposing Mr. Howe's amendment, on the ground that taxes should not be levied in the Constitution, and in conclusion used these words :

"Sir, this attempt to levy an additional tax upon the people by us is all wrong. I believe there is virtue enough in the people to settle this matter through their representatives in the Legislature, and I much prefer to leave it with that body."

Mr. Walpole followed in a speech, opposing the adoption of the original section reported by the Committee, for the reason that he would do nothing to confirm the contract made by the State with the bondholders unless there was also a provision requiring the bondholders to perform their part of the contract.

Mr. Maguire followed in support of the original section as reported by the Committee, and referred with approbation to the calculation, showing that the then existing rate of taxation would pay the debt in fifteen or sixteen years, if the surplus was properly applied from year to year in the purchase of our stocks at the market value.

Mr. Ritchie then moved to re-commit the section, with instructions to strike out and insert that, "the present rate of taxation, twenty-five cents on taxable property and seventy-five cents on each poll, shall be continued until the indebtedness of the State is fully liquidated."

Mr. Ritchie then said :

"I would remark that this is a transcript of the report of the Committee on the subject, and I have no doubt if this course is adopted that in some fifteen or eighteen years the public indebtedness of the State will cease to exist. Under the action of the General Assembly we made this agreement with our bondholders in reference to the payment of the bonds they held, which constituted the public debt. The adoption of a proposition of this kind will not only increase the credit of the State, but do away with any suspicion that we have any disposition to repudiate the contracts we have made. We owe it to our constituents that we should endeavor to erase the unjust aspersions cast upon them in relation to this matter. And it is due also to our bondholders that we should repeat here, in this Convention, the action of the Legislature in the arrangement made by which, in some fifteen years, we will rid our State of its public debt."

Here the debate ended, and the original section was adopted, both amendments being laid upon the table.

I have referred particularly to this debate to show the views entertained by the Committee reporting the Constitutional provision, and the understanding of the Convention at the time of its adoption. It seems clearly to have been understood by the Convention that the Butler Bill guaranteed the continuance of the tax of seventy-five cents on each poll and twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property, until the debt was liquidated, and the main subject of discussion was whether this guarantee should be specifically incorporated into the Constitution.

If the levy and continuance of a specified tax for the payment of the principal and interest of the debt was guaranteed in the original arrangement made by the Legislature with the creditors, it would be conclusive evidence that the State and the creditors were looking to the payment of the principal sum as well as the interest, and that the State could not, in good faith, indefinitely postpone the payment of the principal sum.

But it is equally clear from Mr. Butler's calculations, that he did not expect that the taxes which were guaranteed would be sufficient to pay the debt by the 19th day of January, 1866, for, in fact, by his tables, the principal of the debt could not be paid before 1872 or 1874, and when we take his tables in connection with the language of the certificate, "redeemable at any time after twenty years at the pleasure of the State," it is manifest that Mr. Butler had no assurance that the principal of the debt would be paid promptly at the end of the twenty years.

It turned out, however, that the basis of taxation was far more favorable to the speedy payment of the debt than was contemplated by Mr. Butler and the Legislature in 1846, for the average increase of taxable property, from that time until the present, has been, as before stated, nearly twenty-one millions of dollars per annum, instead of six millions. And a calculation which I have caused to be made, will show that if the guaranteed rates of taxation had been maintained, there would be in the Treasury on the first day of January, 1866, a surplus of four millions eight hundred and ten thousand seven hundred and four dollars and thirty-one cents, ($4,810,704 31,) after defraying the ordinary expenses of the State Government, and the interest on the debt from year to year; and it is easy to show that if this surplus had been applied from time to time, as it accrued, to the purchase of our stocks at their market value, the whole debt would have been paid by the 19th day of January, 1866.

It was well understood by Mr. Butler and the bondholders in 1846 that these rates of taxation were all that the State was able to bear at that time, or would be able to bear for many years, and the language of the certificates, making the principal payable "after the end of twenty years, at the pleasure of the State," shows that the Legislature entertained doubts whether the State would be able to pay promptly at the end of twenty years, and that they did not intend to place her in a situation where, if she failed to make such payment, she would violate her contract, and stand before the world as repudiating or bankrupt.

In 1852 the Legislature departed from these rates of taxation, and reduced the levy to twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property, and fifty cents on each poll. This rate upon polls was continued until 1865, but the levy upon taxable property fluctuated from fifteen to twenty cents on the one hundred dollars from 1853 to 1861.

In 1852 the Legislature passed an act creating the State Debt Sinking Fund, and levying a tax of two cents on the one hundred dollars "for the reduction and ultimate extinction of the public debt."

This Fund was placed under the control of three Commissioners, consisting of the Auditor, Treasurer and Agent of State, who were directed to invest the proceeds of the tax from time to time in the purchase of the two and a half and five per cent. stocks. The interest on the stocks thus purchased was to be paid semi-annually to the Commissioners, who were to invest the same in similar stocks, and thus create a Sinking Fund for the ultimate redemption of the stocks created by the Butler Bill.

In 1857 the Legislature failed to levy any tax for State purposes for the years 1857 and 1858, and for those two years no revenue was collected. In 1859 an act was passed instructing the Auditor of State to sell the stocks which had been purchased by the State Debt Sinking Fund to the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, in order to raise money to defray the ordinary expenses of the State Government, and to supply the deficiencies in revenue growing out of the failure to levy and collect taxes for the preceding two years. This act being held void for want of a title, the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund refused to act upon it, but the Auditor of State treating it as an instruction, sold the stocks in open market, and put the money into the Treasury. At the regular session in 1861, it was enacted, that for the year 1863, and every year thereafter, five cents be levied on each one hundred dollars' worth of property for the reduction and ultimate extinction of the public debt, to be used by the State Debt Sinking Fund Commissioners as before described, but at the extra session in the same year, an act was passed diverting this tax, and that for the years 1861 and 1862, from the State Debt Sinking Fund, to the payment of the War Loan, which had just been authorized, with a provision, however, that if the holders of the War Loan Bonds would not sell them to the State at rates not exceeding their par value, the proceeds of the tax should be invested in the stocks created by the Butler Bill, according to the terms of the original act creating the State Debt Sinking Fund.

This legislative history, it must be admitted, is rather curious and contradictory, and comes short of performing the obligations which the State in 1846 entered into with her creditors.

For this non-performance, up to 1861, a valid excuse can hardly be found, but for what has happened since, the excuse is ample. The contingencies and necessities of war override all other considerations, and if they cause a failure in the strict performance of a contract, it would not subject a State to the imputation of being wanting in good faith.

In view of the whole matter as I have presented it, the just conclusion seems to be this—that while the State is not bound to pay the principal of this debt on the 19th day of January, 1866, or be considered in default, yet that she is not at liberty to postpone the payment of it indefinitely; that to do so would be to violate the fair construction of the certificate itself, and the explicit understanding that existed in the Legislatures of 1846 and 1847, and in the Convention of 1850, as shown by their several enactments and debates; but that she is bound to make provision to pay the debt within such reasonable time after the twenty years as may comport with the original understanding of the parties, the ability and condition of the State, as left by the war, the faithful performance of her contracts, and the preservation of her good name. The whole subject is therefore commended to your careful consideration, in the hope that your conclusion, whatever it shall be, may be announced before your final adjournment, so that the State and her creditors may know what they have to depend upon.

As before shown, the amount of these stocks outstanding in the hands of our creditors and to be provided for, is six millions thirty-six thousand and eighty dollars and thirty-three cents ($6,036,080 33).

The Auditor of State has furnished me a statement in which he estimates that there will be in the Treasury, on account of State Debt Sinking Fund, on the 1st day of May next, the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000).

The Board of Commissioners of the Old Sinking Fund will probably have on hand, in cash, on the 1st day of January, 1866, the sum of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000).

There is due also to the old Sinking Fund about nine hundred thousand dollars ($900,000) on loans secured by mortgages on real estate, which, however, could not be made available for several years, owing to the extension of time made by the State to the mortgagors, unless by the issue of a like amount of bonds bearing six per cent. interest, which is one per cent. less than that which the State receives on the mortgages, the bonds to be paid out of the proceeds of the mortgages when collected. These bonds disposed of to our creditors or others, at par value, and the moneys referred to, if promptly invested in our stocks, would procure some two millions six hundred and fifty-thousand dollars ($2,650,000) of our stocks, and thus reduce the amount in the hands of our creditors to three millions three hundred and eighty-six thousand and eighty dollars and thirty-three cents ($3,386,080 33).

The cash on hand in the Old Sinking Fund draws no interest, and has not for many months, and without regard to the conclusion you may come to as to the time or mode of paying the public debt, I earnestly recommend that all the cash and other assets belonging to the Old Sinking Fund be as speedily as possible invested in our State stocks, and the somewhat formidable and costly machinery by which that fund has been managed, abolished. The fund thus converted into our stocks can be easily managed by the Auditor of State with equal advantage to our common schools, and at a saving of no small expense. Of course it will be understood that such stocks as now belong to the Old Sinking Fund, or as may be purchased by its assets, must in some form be kept alive for the benefit of the School Fund, so that that fund, which is made inviolable by the Constitution, may not suffer by the conversion.

The financial system of Indiana is complicated, expensive, and anomalous. The State is a debtor, owing large sums of money, upon which she pays interest semi-annually, and incurs all the expenses thereto necessarily incident, such as the keeping of an agency in New York, the purchase of exchange, and other items of cost too numerous to mention. She is at the same time a lender of money, and maintains an expensive machinery to carry on that operation, and is subject, of course, to occasional losses incident to all money lenders.

If, therefore, the trust funds of the State could be invested in her own stocks it would greatly cheapen and simplify her financial system, and restore to its administration that public confidence, the absence of which has long been felt.

Should the assets of the Sinking Funds be converted into our public debt, as I have suggested, the whole debt of the State left outstanding in the hands of her creditors to be provided for, might be thus stated :

Two and a half and five per cent. stock.....	$3,386,080	33
War Loan Bonds.....	438,000	00
Vincennes University Bonds.	66,685	00
Floating Debt, estimated at.	100,000	00
Total debt,.....	$3,990,765	33

The conversion suggested can be made within the next six months, and there is no propriety in the State appearing to the world as being indebted in the sum of seven or eight millions of dollars when she has the means in her own hands of reducing it to less than four millions.

ENUMERATION AND APPORTIONMENT.

It is not creditable to the State that any provision of its Constitution, mandatory in its character, and not in conflict with the National Constitution, should remain a dead letter because of the non-action of the legislative department. If law-makers would have their enactments obeyed by the masses they should set an example of obedience by a prompt and faithful performance of those duties enjoined upon them by the higher law contained in the Constitution itself. More than fourteen years have elapsed since the adoption of the present Constitution of the State, and to this day there are two subjects on which its language is that of positive command where there has been no corresponding obedience—one of these subjects being almost vital to the existence of the Legislature itself. The first of these is the periodical enumeration of the white male inhabitants above twenty-one years of age, and the periodical apportionment of Senators and Representatives, based upon this enumeration. The other is the providing of Houses of Correction and Reformation for juvenile offenders.

Allow me earnestly to call your attention to both of these constitutional mandates in the order above stated. The Constitution of 1851 provides that the first and second elections of members of the General Assembly after its taking effect shall be according to the apportionment last made by the General Assembly before the adoption of said Constitution. This provision gave ample time for making the enumeration and apportionment required by the organic law of the State. The Constitution says that the General Assembly shall, at its second session after the adoption of this Constitution, and every six years thereafter, cause an enumeration to be made of all the white male inhabitants over the age of twenty-one years. It further says that “the number of Senators and Representatives shall, at the session next following each period of making such enumeration, be fixed by law and apportioned among the several counties according to the number of white male inhabitants above twenty-one years of age in each.” The General Assembly of 1853 designed to carry out the first of these provisions by passing an act approved February 24th, 1853, entitled, “An act to provide for the enumeration of all the white male inhabitants over the age of twenty-one years, in the State of Indiana in the year 1853, and pay the officers for taking the same.” In consequence of defects in this law, as I understand the matter, the enumeration contemplated by it was never completed and published, and although more than twelve years have since elapsed, no other act providing for an enumeration has been passed. In 1857 the General Assembly passed an act entitled, “An act to apportion Senators and Representatives for the next four years.” This act was not based upon an enumeration of the white male inhabitants of the State over the age of twenty-one years, for no such enumeration had been completed, and although it has long since expired by its own limitation, no other apportionment law has been enacted in its place, and by common consent, and from the necessity of the case, members of both houses of the General-Assembly are still elected under the provisions of this law, which has ceased to exist, and which, if in existence, has become grossly unjust and unequal by the change in the population of the several counties of the State since 1857. A literal compliance with the Constitution as to enumeration and apportionment, is now impossible, but the nearest practical approach to it should be promptly made. To this end I recommend the passage of an act providing for an enumeration such as is contemplated by the Constitution, to be made in 1866, and another in the year 1871, and another every six years after the year 1871. These periodical enumerations should be provided for by a permanent enactment that would require no renewal at the expiration of each period of six years, and to secure its enforcement there should be adequate penalties for any failure of duty on the part of the officers charged with making the enumeration. To meet the present emergency I further recommend the passage of a law, temporary in its character, making a new apportionment of Senators and Representatives on the basis of the votes cast at the Presidential election in 1864, such apportionment to continue until a new one can be made based upon the enumeration required by the Constitution.

HOUSES OF REFORM FOR JUVENILE OFFENDERS.

The other particular before alluded to, in which a positive requirement of the Constitution has hitherto been wholly disregarded, relates to the establishment of Houses of Correction and Reform for juvenile offenders.

The second section of the ninth article of the Constitution reads as follows, viz:

“The General Assembly shall provide Houses of Refuge for the correction and reformation of juvenile offenders.”

In accordance with this humane and enlightened provision, the eighteenth section of the first article further provides that the penal code shall be founded on the principles of reformation, and not of vindictive justice.

It may well be doubted whether the county jails should, in any instance, be used as places of punishment for any class of offenders, and whether they should not be solely employed as places of detention of accused persons awaiting trial. Be this as it may, there can be no doubt as to the duty and policy of speedily establishing Houses of Reform for Juvenile Offenders.

The Legislature of 1855, impressed with the propriety of providing a place in which youthful offenders might be confined, uncontaminated by the proximity and examples of old and hardened offenders, authorized the purchase of a tract of land a few miles west of Indianapolis, for the express purpose of establishing a House of Reform for Juvenile Offenders. In pursuance of this authority the land was purchased, but since then nothing further has been done to carry into execution the provisions of the Constitution on this subject.

Institutions of this description have ceased to be an experiment, numbers of them having been established in other States of the Union with the most beneficial results. I most earnestly recommend that immediate steps be taken for carrying into execution, with the least possible delay, this requirement of the Constitution.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF LAW.

The restoration of peace and the consequent discharge from the service of the United States of the major part of the Volunteers of this State, since the adjournment of the General Assembly, render it proper that there should be a complete and thorough revision of the Act for the relief of the families of soldiers, seamen and marines, and sick and wounded soldiers in hospitals, approved March 4th, 1865. Difficulties have arisen in the construction of the act, and although the Auditor of State has taken great pains to prevent a diversity of action in taking the enumeration contemplated by the act, I regret to say his efforts have not been successful in procuring entire uniformity. There is also a want of uniformity of construction as to the persons entitled to receive the benefits of the act, the local authorities in some counties, as I am informed, holding that the soldier's family must be reduced to a condition of absolute pauperism, before they can receive the allowance provided for by the act, while in other counties, relief has been afforded whenever the soldier's family was, in the language of the seventh section of the act, otherwise without "sufficient means for their comfortable support," although they might possess some property or means. The latter is obviously the proper construction, and it is greatly to be regretted that the act should not have been liberally construed in all parts of the State. There is also some uncertainty as to the time when the weekly allowance provided by the act shall commence, or from what time it shall be computed to those entitled, although in my opinion the auditor of State has properly decided that the allowance should commence from the date of the passage of the act. So far as it may be necessary to continue the provisions of the act in force, I recommend the adoption of such explanatory legislation as may be necessary to remove existing ambiguities, and to secure the benefits of the act to all those within its scope and spirit, and to prevent the illiberal construction before alluded to. The Act contemplates the levy and collection of a three mill tax on all taxable property and a poll tax of one dollar on each taxable poll for each of the years 1865 and 1866. I respectfully suggest that under existing circumstances it will neither be necessary nor proper that these taxes should be levied or collected for the year 1866, believing that the levy for 1865 if properly disbursed will be sufficient to furnish all the relief that the altered condition of the country demands.

SOLDIERS' AND SEAMEN'S HOME.

I earnestly invite your attention to the necessity for the speedy establishment of an Institution in which Indiana soldiers and seamen, disabled by wounds or disease contracted in the service of the United States, shall be cared for and maintained during the continuance of the disabilities under which they are laboring. Justice, humanity and the honor of the State, forbid that these brave men should be permitted to suffer for the comforts of life, or be compelled to receive from the public such assistance as is accorded to ordinary paupers.

On the 15th day of May, last, for the purpose of enlisting the sympathies of the people in the establishment of such an Institution, I issued an address, of which a copy is herewith respectfully submitted. In pursuance of the invitation contained in this address, two successive meetings were held at Indianapolis, for the purpose of effecting a temporary organization of a Home for disabled Indiana Soldiers and seamen, and to inaugurate a system for the collection of voluntary contributions sufficient to place it ultimately on a permanent foundation.

At the second of these meetings, held on the 24th day of May last, a temporary organization was effected, the basis of which will be seen by reference to a copy of the proceedings of said meeting herewith respectfully submitted.

Soon after, applications for relief on the part of disabled soldiers were presented to the officers of the Association, and the Common Council of the City of Indianapolis, generously tendered the gratuitous use of the City Hospital Buildings to the managers of the Association for a temporary Home, which offer was accepted, with the distinct understanding that its acceptance should not in any degree influence the ultimate location of the Institution, should the effort to place it on a permanent basis, be successful. The temporary Home was opened on the seventh day of August last, and the absolute necessity for such an institution is demonstrated by the fact that already forty-six (46) disabled soldiers have been admitted into the Institution, twenty-one (21) of whom, after remaining some time and receiving the best care and medical treatment, have been discharged, with the prospect of being sufficiently restored to enable them to care for themselves, and one has died, leaving twenty-four still to be cared for. Of the twenty-four still in the Institution, seventeen are totally disabled, either by old age, disease, or wounds received in battle.

The funds received by the Treasurer of the Home from voluntary contributions, amount in the aggregate to $4,994 55, in addition to which there are unpaid subscriptions, the estimated amount of which will increase this to over $20,000. It is to be feared that the Institution cannot be placed upon a permanent foundation by voluntary contributions, and in view of this I submit the entire subject to the General Assembly, and respectfully but earnestly recommend that prompt measures be taken to secure the object in view, feeling assured that it will commend itself to your judgment and sympathies.

The U. S. General Hospital, at Jeffersonville, is one of the most complete establishments of the kind in the country, and is well adapted to the purposes of a Soldiers' Home. I have written to the Secretary of War and Surgeon General for information, as to whether the Government would be willing to turn over this hospital to the State of Indiana, to be used in the establishment of such an institution, should the State desire it. The answer, when received, will be communicated to the General Assembly.

OFFICIAL BONDS.

The public interests require that there should be some legislation on the subject of official bonds, to prevent the sureties therein from setting up, as a defense to actions brought on such bonds, some unperformed outstanding agreement between them and their principals. Under existing decisions, a surety in an official bond, when sued thereon, may plead, as a defense, that when he signed the bond the principal promised him that he would procure some other person to execute it as a co-surety, and that the bond was filed and approved in violation of this agreement. Sound policy requires that when official bonds are properly approved, and filed in the proper office, there should be no doubt as to their binding obligation on all the parties executing the same. I respectfully recommend the passage of a law, providing that every principal and surety in an official bond shall be required, before such bond is approved, to acknowledge its execution before some officer authorized to take the acknowledgement of deeds, the acknowledgement to be certified on the bond, and making the bond thus acknowledged as binding, to all intents and purposes, upon such surety as it is upon the principal, and declaring that as between the State and the surety, such surety shall be deemed and taken to be a principal, and expressly prohibiting him from setting up any defense thereto, other than such as might avail the principal.

GRAND JURIES.

The experiment inaugurated in 1852, of depriving the Grand Juries of jurisdiction over misdemeanors, has been fully and fairly tested, and I respectfully submit, that the lesson taught has not confirmed the wisdom of this change, in the administration of our penal code. Experience, I think, has clearly demonstrated that where it is not made the sworn duty of some properly constituted tribunal to make diligent inquiry and true presentment, as to the minor offenses against the penal code, these offenses will go unpunished, and thereby beget a disregard of law, and result in the increase of crime.

The General Assembly has already found it necessary to restore the jurisdiction of Grand Juries over one class of misdemeanors, and it is not perceived why the same considerations which induced this partial return to the old system, do not require a complete restoration of the jurisdiction so long exercised by the Grand Inquests of the several counties. I therefore respectfully recommend the restoration of this jurisdiction.

EMIGRATION.

The return of peace will increase the tide of emigration from Europe to the United States, whilst many of the brave soldiers of Indiana, who have been campaigning in the Southern States will doubtless seek new homes in the regions through which they have marched. These considerations render it of the highest importance that steps should be taken to attract to this State the largest possible number of foreign emigrants.

To this end, I repeat the recommendation for the establishment of a Bureau of Emigration, contained in my last regular message.

WORLD'S FAIR.

In this connection I call your attention to the subject of the World's Fair, or "Universal Exposition," to be opened at Paris, France, on the 1st of April, 1867. It is eminently desirable that specimens of the agricultural productions, manufactures, mechanical improvements, and mineral wealth of Indiana, should be there exhibited. They would constitute the best advertisement, to the people of the Old World, of the great resources, progress and wealth of the State, the energy, intelligence, and refinement of her people, and the superior inducements and advantages presented to immigration.

I recommend to your consideration the propriety of making provision for such exhibition, and herewith lay before you certain documents in regard to the Fair which I have received from the Secretary of State of the United States.

EDUCATION.

The subject of education will doubtless have your early and careful consideration. I cannot refrain from again recommending the speedy establishment of a State Normal School. Competent and skillful teachers are essential to a good system of education, and these cannot be supplied in sufficient numbers to meet the increasing wants of our people, without an institution whose business it shall be to train teachers for their profession.

MORGAN RAID.

I again respectfully invite the attention of the General Assembly to the damages occasioned to some of our citizens, by the invasion of the State by John Morgan, in 1863. I have seen no cause for changing the views expressed on this subject in my regular message delivered at the commencement of your last session, and therefore repeat the recommendation therein made.

SCHOOL FUND.

The first section of Article Eight of our State Constitution provides as follows: "Knowledge and learning, generally diffused throughout a community, being essential to the preservation of free government, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to encourage by all suitable means, moral, intellectual, scientific, and agricultural improvement; and to provide by law for a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge, and equally open to all." The language of this provision is very broad, and would seem, in letter and in spirit, to embrace all the children of the State without regard to color. Surely it cannot be denied that, as we have a colored population in our midst, it is our interest, independent of those considerations of natural justice and humanity which plead so strongly, to educate and elevate that population. An ignorant and degraded element is a burden and injury to society, whatever may be its color. It therefore becomes a matter of sound political economy, as well as absolute justice, that whatever colored population we may have should be educated, and enabled to become intelligent, industrious, and useful members of the community. It is also especially important at this time, when the President of the United States and the people of the North are requiring the people of the South to make provision for educating their co population, and protecting them in the enjoyment of civil rights, that the Northern States should set the example, and practice what they preach, by extending to their smaller colored population the rights and benefits which they demand for them from others.

The laws of Indiana exclude colored children from the common schools, and make no provision whatever for their education. I would therefore recommend that the laws be so amended as to require an enumeration to be made of the colored children of the State, and such a portion of the School Fund as may be in proportion to their number, be set apart and applied to their education by the establishment of separate schools, under such suitable provisions and regulations as may be deemed proper. I would not recommend that white and colored children be placed together in the same schools, believing, as I do, in the present state of public opinion, that to do so would create dissatisfaction and conflict, and impair the usefulness of the schools. I am informed that a system can be devised, by which separate schools for the education of colored children can be successfully maintained in various parts of the State, and believe that justice, humanity, and sound policy require that it should be done.

By the school law of 1865, negroes and mulattoes are not taxed for the support of common schools, but if colored schools should be established this law should be so amended as to subject them to like taxation with white persons for educational purposes.

TESTIMONY OF COLORED PERSONS.

In my message to the Legislature at the last session, I held the following language in regard to the admission of the testimony of colored persons in cases in which white persons are parties :

“The statute which excludes negroes from testifying in courts of justice, in cases in which white persons are parties, is, in my opinion, a stigma upon the humanity and intelligence of the State. The idea that the white race must be protected against the colored, by imposing on them this disability, is absurd, and has been made the cover and protection of much crime and injustice. As the law stands, murder may be perpetrated with impunity by white persons in the presence only of colored witnesses, and it is well known that negroes are often employed by white persons as the instruments of crime and fraud, because of their inability to testify in courts of justice. The interests of both races demand that this disability be removed; and if the fact of color affects credibility, that can be referred to the court and jury as in other cases, and would undoubtedly receive due consideration. Indiana and Illinois are the only free States whose statute books are dishonored by the retention of a law so repugnant to the spirit of the age, and the dictates of common sense."

I can add nothing to the force of what I have before said, but desire again earnestly to recommend the repeal of this obnoxious statute. It is due, however, to the State of Illinois, to say that her statute book is no longer disgraced by this law, and that Indiana has the bad eminence of being the only State in the North that retains it.

INDIANA TROOPS.

The part which Indiana has taken in the war for the suppression of the rebellion, is a matter upon which the citizens of the State may justly pride themselves.

In the number of troops furnished, and in the amount of voluntary contributions rendered, Indiana, in proportion to her population and wealth, stands equal to any of her sister States. It is also a subject of gratitude and thankfulness that, whilst the number of troops furnished by Indiana alone in this great contest would have done credit to a first class nation, measured by the standard of previous wars, not a single regiment, battery, or battalion from this State has brought reproach upon the national flag, and no disaster of the war can be traced to any want of fidelity, courage, or efficiency on the part of any Indiana officer.

The endurance, heroism, intelligence, and skill of the officers and soldiers sent forth by Indiana to do battle for the Union, have shed a lustre on our beloved State of which any people might justly be proud. Without claiming superiority over our loyal sister States, it is but justice to the brave men, who have represented us on almost every battle field of the war, to say that their deeds have placed Indiana in the front rank of those heroic States which rushed to the rescue of the imperiled government of the nation.

The total number of troops furnished by the State for all terms of service in the armies of the Union, exceeds two hundred thousand men, much the greater portion of these being for three years; and in addition to this not less than fifty thousand State militia have from time to time been called into active service to repel rebel raids and defend our southern border from invasion; all of which will be fully shown in the official report of the Adjutant General, now in course of preparation for publication.

Since the end of the war, all the Indiana troops have been mustered out of service except eighteen regiments of infantry, and three regiments of cavalry. Every effort consistent with the interests of the Government has been made by the Executive Department of the State to procure the early muster out of these remaining Indiana regiments, and assurances have been received that orders for their discharge will be issued as soon as their services can be dispensed with. For other interesting details relating to our troops you are respectfully referred to a communication from the Adjutant General herewith submitted.

REORGANIZATION.

Since the adjournment of the Legislature the civil war which had desolated our country has terminated in the complete triumph of the Government and the suppression of the rebellion. The evacuation of Richmond, and the capitulation of Lee's army, were rapidly followed by the surrender of every other rebel army in the field, and irregular guerrilla warfare almost entirely passed away in a few weeks. The suppression of the rebellion and the subjugation of armed rebels seems to be complete, while every rebel State has confessed to the irretrievable destruction of the institution of slavery. The people of the South have been beaten and overpowered in the field; they have wholly lost their property in slaves; much of their country has been overrun and made desolate by the march and ravage of great armies; poverty and wretchedness have been brought home to large classes who before had lived in wealth and luxury; large numbers of their population have perished in the conflict, and there is prevailing among them great exasperation and bitterness which time alone can assuage.

The great majority, however, appear to regard the verdict of the war as irreversible, and to promptly accept the situation as one they cannot modify or put aside. But while the heresy of State sovereignty has been extirpated, and the questions involved in the conflict settled by the arbitrament of arms, it is yet of the greatest importance to the nation that these questions be adjudicated and determined by the highest judicial tribunal, which might most appropriately be done in the trial, for high treason and other atrocious crimes, of the chief instigator and head of this most wicked and bloody rebellion. It should be definitively established as a principle in our Constitution, both by judicial decision and example of punishment, that rebellion is treason, that treason is a crime which may not be committed with impunity; and that there is but one sovereignty, which resides in the collective and undivided people of the United States.

The work of reorganizing the Governments of the rebel States, and bringing them again into practical relations with the Government and people of the United States, is now upon the country, and demands for its successful performance the greatest wisdom, patience, and forbearance.

But while it is important that the work of reorganization shall not be unnecessarily delayed, it is more important that it shall proceed upon sound principles, which will furnish guarantees for the future integrity and peace of the Republic. The principal discussions which arise on this subject pertain to the future status of the negro in the Southern States. By some it is urged that conferring suffrage upon him shall be made a condition of reorganization, or in other words that the States lately in rebellion shall not be permitted to resume their practical relations with the Government, except upon the terms of first conferring the rights of suffrage upon their freedmen. As to the manner in which this measure shall be accomplished, the friends of it differ. Some are in favor of persistently excluding the members of Congress from the Southern States, until negro suffrage has been incorporated into their several Constitutions. Others assume that the States lately in rebellion are no longer members of the Union, but have forfeited and lost their character as States, and are in fact held as conquered provinces, and, like unorganized territories which may have been acquired by the Government, are under the complete control and jurisdiction of Congress, which may confer suffrage upon whomsoever it pleases.

The subject of suffrage is, by the national Constitution, expressly referred to the determination of the several States, and it can not be taken from them without a violation of the letter and spirit of that instrument.

But without stopping to discuss theories or questions of constitutional law, and leaving them out of view, it would, in my opinion, be unwise to make the work of reconstruction depend upon a condition of such doubtful utility as negro suffrage.

It is a fact, so manifest that it should not be called in question by any, that a people who are just emerging from the barbarism of slavery are not qualified to become a part of our political system, and take part, not only in the government of themselves and their neighbors, but of the whole United States. So far from believing that negro suffrage is a remedy for all of our national ills, I doubt whether it is a remedy for any, and rather believe that its enforcement by Congress would be more likely to subject the negro to a merciless persecution, than to confer upon him any substantial benefit. By some it is thought that suffrage is already cheap enough in this country; and the immediate transfer of more than a half a million of men from the bonds of slavery, with all the ignorance and degradation upon them which the slavery of generations upon southern fields has produced, would be a declaration to the world that the exercise of American suffrage involves no intellectual or moral qualifications, and that there is no difference between an American freeman and an American slave, which may not be removed by a mere act of Congress. What is far more important to the freedmen than suffrage, is that their several States shall give them the right to testify in courts of justice, afford to them the ordinary judicial machinery for the protection of their civil rights, provide for their education, and thus enable them to qualify themselves for the higher political duties of the citizen. It is not less vital to their interests that the Constitutional Amendment be adopted, which not only forever prohibits slavery throughout the nation, but confers upon Congress the power of legislating for the protection of their liberty and civil rights; and these things, among others, the President of the United States has imposed as precedent conditions in the work of reorganization, and has declared his purpose to hold and govern these States by military authority, as in a state of war, until they have been complied with. Time, and the influence of the new conditions by which they are surrounded, will elevate the condition of one race, and soften the prejudices and asperities of the other, and will accomplish what legislation and violent political changes can not. The inevitable presence of both races upon the same soil, the demands and necessities of capital and labor, and the unavoidable community of interest, will, in process of time, I can not doubt, force a reciprocity of rights and privileges. The institution of slavery was so closely intertwined about the foundation of society in the Southern States, that, when it was destroyed, society was uprooted and broken to pieces. The process of its reconstruction is but beginning, but it is very certain that the new structure will differ, in most essential particulars, from the old. Free labor, free speech, and free schools, will come into it as new and powerful elements of change and progress, and large emigration from the Northern States and from Europe, bringing commerce, manufactures and improved agriculture, will exert a modifying and beneficial influence, the effect of which can hardly be over-estimated.

Another amendment, not only conducive to the interests of the freedmen, but demanded by the rights and interests of the white people of the North, should be made, changing the basis of representation in Congress, and the apportionment of political power, among the several States. The present provision in the Constitution of the United States concerning this, reads as follows: "Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States, which may be included within this Union, by adding to the number of free persons, including those that may be bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons." The phrase, "three-fifths of all other persons," was a periphrastic description of the slave population, and gave representation for three-fifths of their number. By the abolition of slavery, this population is added to the "number of free persons," and thus increases the basis of representation by the addition of two-fifths.

The inequality produced between the several States by this form of representation, is too palpable to require argument. By its operation, eight millions of white people in the Southern States hold and exercise political power full sixty per cent. greater than an equal number of white people in the Northern States, by reason of having in their midst four and a half millions of negroes. This provision was the chief compromise which our fathers made with the institution of slavery, and although, through a sense of its great injustice, it has been impatiently acquiesced in by the Northern people, yet it has been carried out in good faith; but now that slavery, the foundation of this compromise, has passed away, the provision should be so changed as to suit the altered condition of the country, and do justice to every part of the nation. If it were so amended as to apportion representation and political power among the several States according to the actual number of male voters over the age of twenty-one years, it would be equally fair for all, and would put it out of the power of the people of any State, or class of States, to increase or double their political power by the presence in their midst of a population which they themselves deprive of all political rights; and thus an inducement would be presented to the several States, in order to enlarge their power in the Government, to confer political rights upon every class of persons, without regard to color or nationality, as rapidly as might be deemed consistent with their true interests.

By the census of 1860, the fifteen slave States were allowed eighty-four (84) members of Congress, because of the representation of three-fifths of their slaves, and now that the slaves are made free, and the other two-fifths added to their basis of representation, they would be entitled to fourteen members more, although, perhaps, in point of law, this increase cannot take place anterior to the year 1870. If the negro population was equally diffused throughout all the States, this inequality would not exist, but the fact is, it is not so diffused, and the probability is that the concentration in the Southern States will become greater from year to year by the emigration thither of the colored population of the North. According to the census of 1860, the Southern States upon a white basis would have been entitled to sixty-six members of Congress, instead of eighty-four according to the existing basis.

Whatever opposition there may be to the adoption of this proposed amendment, it amounts, when stripped of its coverings and sophistries, simply to this: that the white people of the South shall continue to exercise in the future, as in the past, sixty per cent. more of political power in the National Government, than an equal number of white people in the North, and for this great inequality and injustice I am wholly unable to perceive any good or sufficient reason.

Should such an amendment be passed by the requisite majorities through the Congress of the United States, before your final adjournment, I would most respectfully, but earnestly, recommend its immediate ratification on your part.

In conclusion upon this subject, I am not of the opinion that the Herculean work of reconstruction will be accomplished at one time, by any general and sweeping process, but that it will proceed State by State, as each one shall conform to the requirements of the Government, and show itself loyal and prepared to resume its practical relations in the Union. The conditions which have been imposed upon these States by the President, are not only reasonable and legitimate, but are dictated by justice and a wise foresight for the future of the Republic, and although they may not be accepted this year, or even the next, yet that they ultimately will be I have no doubt. And if the work of reorganization shall be successfully completed within the same period which was required to put down the rebellion, it will be within the limit of my expectations.

CONCLUSION.

The war has established upon imperishable foundations, the great fundamental truth of the unity and indivisibility of the nation. We are many States but one people, having one undivided sovereignty, one flag, and one common destiny. It has also established, to be confessed by all the world, the exalted character of the American Soldier, his matchless valor, his self-sacrificing patriotism, his capacity to endure fatigues and hardships, and his humanity, which in the midst of carnage has wreathed his victorious achievements with a brighter glory.

He has taught the world a lesson before which it stands in amazement, how, when the storm of battle had passed, he could lay aside his arms, put off the habiliments of war, and return with cheerfulness to the gentle pursuits of peace, and show how the bravest of soldiers could become the best of citizens.

To the Army and Navy, under the favor of Providence, we owe the preservation of our country, and the fact that we have to-day a place, and the proudest place, among the nations.

Let it not be said of us, as it was said in olden time, that "Republics are ungrateful." Let us honor the dead, cherish the living, and preserve in immortal memory the deeds and virtues of all, as an inspiration for countless generations to come.

The Speaker laid before the House the following Memorial of the Officers and Directors of Indiana Soldiers' Home Association.

To the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned Officers and Directors of the Indiana Soldiers' and Seamen's Home Association, most respectfully present a summary of the condition and plans of our organization, in the hope that your careful consideration of the whole matter may lead to such legislation as shall conduce to the best interests of our disabled soldiers and the soldiers' orphans of our State.

As you will observe, the Governor, who is ex officio President of this association, has given you, in his message, so full a history of our organization and operations, that we deem it unnecessary to do more than present a few items not fully elaborated in that document.

The Governor informs you that, up to the date of his writing, forty-six disabled soldiers have been admitted into the Home, twenty-one of whom were enabled, after careful treatment, to go out again and care for themselves.

We deem it proper to say to you that, owing to the limited funds in our hands and at our command, we have been compelled to limit our benefactions to the most helpless and most destitute cases that were presented, while all applications in behalf of orphans were suspended until additional funds can be secured. For the same reason soldiers were not retained in the Home longer than was absolutely necessary for medical or surgical treatment. Had we been able to afford suitable accommodations, we are quite certain that the number of occupants of the Home, during the time named, would have been doubled, if not quadrupled.

We have not dared to throw open our doors and extend a general invitation to all disabled soldiers, who need help, to come in because we had neither the means to support, nor accommodations to render comfortable those who would come. Hence we have quietly done what we could for the worst cases coming under the observation of our agents, while the greater portion of our disabled soldiers are not aware that we are receiving any into our temporary institution. Indeed many persons in our State, not being so situated as to see the necessity of our enterprize, and being ignorant of what we are accomplishing, are even now opposing our efforts with the assertion that, "if we were to build a splendid Soldiers' Home, no soldier would come into it." The best answer that can be made to this assertion, will be found in the extract from the Report of the Superintendent of the temporary Home, given below. That there are disabled soldiers who will never live in the Home, is doubtless true, for they have friends who can take care of them elsewhere; but wealth is not the heritage of the masses, who gave to the nation her soldiers. The only resources of most of our soldiers were their physical powers, and these being now destroyed or impaired, they have a right to expect from those for whose security they gave their all, some just recognition of their sacrifices.

Many of our disabled soldiers have families, and the father was their only dependence. That we owe them a support is beyond all doubt. He would have supported them had he not been disabled, and now that he is disabled in our behalf we must do it. The same argument applies with still weightier import to the orphans of the fallen.

The plan that we propose is this: We would procure a tract of good land, sufficient to yield all necessary vegetables for the Home. Upon this ground we would provide suitable habitations, both for single men, families, and orphans. Having convened these all in one community, we would afford them all possible facilities for contributing to their own support. This would be done chiefly by erecting workshops, where such trades could be carried on as disabled men could work at—such as making brooms, baskets, brushes, shoes, &c. Here the remaining faculties of partially disabled men could be educated to good trades, whereby they might support themselves independently, outside of the Home, in a few years, if they should desire it.

By bringing these families into one community, we will have facilities for educating their children in a superior manner, being able to instruct them both in the ordinary branches of education, and also in a suitable trade, thus fully qualifying them for usefulness in after life; they, meanwhile, contributing, by their labor, to their own support. The same advantages would accrue to the orphans, who, in addition to the education and trade there acquired, would be placed under the charge of suitable persons, who would, so far as possible, maintain the family relation, and perform a parent's duties in their behalf.

It is furthermore our desire to establish, at the earliest practicable moment, a special school for young men, wherein will be taught book keeping, penmanship, telegraphing, and other branches of a practical business education. In this school, men who have lost an arm, or a limb, may yet be so instructed, that they can go forth, in a year or two, and live independently by their acquirements, being qualified, both for civil pursuits and for such official positions as a grateful and patriotic people would be disposed to confer upon them. As evidence of the necessity for such a school, we would say that numerous applications, by disabled soldiers, have already been made to us, for such advantages as such schools afford, and, although unprepared to accommodate all, yet some young men now at the temporary Home, are attending the Mercantile, and other schools of Indianapolis, and are making great proficiency in their studies.

We have not yet obtained sufficient data whereby to estimate the number of disabled soldiers, and orphans of soldiers, in the State, who will need the benefits of this Home. We are confident, however, that the number of soldiers can not fall under five hundred, and the number of orphans one thousand. Some four weeks ago, we made application to the county Auditors of the State for information on this point, but thus far we have but partial returns from nineteen counties, showing an aggregate of 173 totally disabled, and 565 partially disabled soldiers; and 427 whole orphans, and 1,633 orphans in part—their fathers being dead. This number of disabled soldiers does not include those whose constitutions have been broken down in the service, which would largely increase the aggregate.

Taking these nineteen counties for the basis of a proportionate estimate for the whole State—which, however, is too small a basis for an average estimate, as none of those counties contain cities of more than four thousand inhabitants—and we have 828 totally disabled, and 2,760 partially disabled soldiers, and 9,036 soldiers' orphans in this State, besides a vast number of soldiers broken down by disease. This estimate, we are fully confident, will fall far below the facts, when they are developed.

With this statement of our plans and purposes, we appeal to you for aid in their accomplishment. Wherever our agents go, they find the common sentiment prevailing, that the Legislature ought to appropriate funds for this purpose, and this leads us to hope for your prompt and liberal action. Put us on a living and working basis, and with the proceeds of our shops and gardens, coupled with the usual success of our soliciting agents, we are hopeful for a career of great benefit to the soldier and orphan, with very little additional expense to the State.

We appeal to you as the representatives of a State whose soldiers have redeemed her from disgrace, and crowned her with peerless honors; as the representatives of a people who have borne much for their country's sake, but are willing to bear still more, if they may thus lighten the burdens of care, or want, or sorrow, that rest upon the maimed and shattered heroes that live, or the orphans of the noble dead.

The following extract from the report of Dr. Wishard, Superintendent of the temporary Home, is appended for your information :

“ Total number admitted up to November 17th.....	55

“ Of the number remaining, eight have lost each one arm; one an arm and leg; four have lost both arms; one has lost both feet; two are hopelessly consumptive; one has dropsy, and the remainder are

Message from the Governor, by Mr. Jacobs, his Private Secretary.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives :

I regret to have to announce to you that ill health compels me for a time to withdraw from the discharge of official duties. I am advised by my physicians, and by my own knowledge of the condition of my health, that I cannot safely continue in the performance of the labor incident to the Executive Office, and that rest, a change of climate and locality is necessary to my recovery. The duties of the office during my absence will devolve upon Lieutenant Governor Baker, and I need not say to you that they cannot be placed in abler or safer hands. I have known him long and well, and can testify that in every department of life in which he has been placed, he has acquitted himself with distinguished ability, fidelity, and devotion to the cause of his country.

I hope and believe that your session will prove alike honorable to yourselves, and profitable to the State. It has begun under favorable auspices, and gives promise of being one of the most laborious and useful General Assemblies which has convened in this State for many years. For the kindness and consideration you have shown to me, on all occasions, I return you my grateful thanks. And for your health and prosperity, each and all, accept my most earnest wishes.

Message from the Governor, by Mr. Jacobs, his Private Secretary, with accompanying documents.

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives :

Charles P. Jacobs, Esq., Private Secretary, is hereby authorized, as heretofore, to make Executive communications to the General Assembly.

The following message from the Lieutenant Governor, acting as Governor, by his Private Secretary, Mr. Jacobs, was received :

To the Senate and House of Representatives :

You have already been informed by His Excellency, the Governor, of his inability, for the present, to discharge the duties of his office. In assuming the duties devolved upon me by the Constitution, I cannot refrain from expressing my profound regret that the State should be, even temporarily, deprived of the services of an officer in whose wisdom and patriotism the people have such implicit confidence, nor from giving utterance to the hope for his speedy restoration to health and the performance of the duties to which he was called by the voice of his fellow citizens. Allow me here to express my ardent desire to co-operate with the General Assembly in all measures intended to promote the honor and prosperity of the State, and the welfare of its people.

I beg leave herewith respectfully to submit the report of Dr. William Hannaman, President of the Indiana Sanitary Commission, setting forth a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Commission from the 10th day of December, 1864, to November 10th, 1865, and also showing the aggregate receipts and disbursements since its establishment. The Commission was organized in February, 1862, and it will be seen from the report of the President now submitted that its cash receipts since that time amount to the sum of two hundred and six thousand six hundred and five dollars and twenty-six cents, while the contributions in stores and supplies, at their estimated cash value, amount to the further sum of three hundred and fifty-nine thousand dollars and three cents, making a grand total of $565,105 29, of voluntary contributions by the people of Indiana, to administer to the comfort and supply the wants of our soldiers. The cash expenditures of the Commission, during the same period, amount to the sum of $206,105 26, leaving a balance of cash in the treasury of the Commission, at this time, of $500, all the stores and supplies contributed having been applied as contemplated by the contributors. This record is highly creditable to the humanity, patriotism and justice of the people of this State. It was the desire of Governor Morton to communicate to the General Assembly his high appreciation of the services of the gentlemen who have contributed so much of their time, energy and talents to the collection, management and distribution of these moneys and supplies, and I deeply regret that circumstances beyond his control prevented him from properly acknowledging these services in his official capacity.

I desire to say in this connection, that Dr. Hannaman, the able and faithful President of the Commission, is entitled to the gratitude and thanks of the people of the State, for the industry, prudence and fidelity with which he has presided over the operations of the Commission since its organization. Alfred Harrison, Esq., the patriotic Treasurer of the Commission, is no less entitled to be held in grateful remembrance, for the ability and fidelity with which he has managed the funds of the Commission. The zeal, intelligence and industry of Chaplain John H. Lozier and Captain A. Atkinson, in commending the cause of our brave soldiers to the sympathies of the people, and collecting contributions to the Sanitary work, are known throughout the State, and appreciated wherever known. To enumerate all those who have devoted their energies to the furtherance of this great work of beneficent justice, would exceed the limits prescribed for this communication; but their labors will long be remembered by the people, and especially by the soldiers and their friends.

I also herewith submit the report of Dr. Wm. Hannaman, General Military Agent of the State, showing the condition and operations of all the Indiana Military Agencies established by the Governor, from December, 1864, to the present time. I especially commend this report to the careful consideration of the General Assembly. The good performed, and the suffering prevented or alleviated through the instrumentality of these agencies, cannot be too highly appreciated. I respectfully recommend that provision be made for the continuance of the Agency at Washington City, and for placing it on a permanent basis. The wants of our discharged soldiers, and the families of such as have given their lives to their country will probably require such a central agency for several years. A necessity, also, in my judgment, exists, for the continuance, for the present, of an agency at Indianapolis. The small sum that it will cost the people of the State to continue these two agencies will be a trifle in comparison to the large amounts which will be saved to the surviving soldiers of this State, and to the families of those who have died in the service, in the preparation and presentation of their claims against the Government. The few remaining agencies, as will be seen by the report above referred to, will soon be closed.

I also herewith transmit to the General Assembly the memorial of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Agricultural College, praying for the passage of a Joint Resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress to use their influence to procure such a modification of the act of Congress as will enable States in which there are no public lands subject to entry, instead of selling their land scrip, to enter lands therewith in any other States in which there may be Government lands subject to entry. Under existing legislation, if there is no public land subject to entry in the State to which the scrip is issued, lands cannot be entered with the scrip in any other State, but the State to which the issue is made will be compelled to sell the scrip, in order to establish and endow the College.

The object should be to realize from the munificent Congressional Donation for the establishment and endowment of Agricultural Colleges in the several States, the largest possible amount. If the scrip is forced upon the market by all those States who, like Indiana, have no lands—or comparatively none—within their limits subject to entry, the result will be the depreciation of the scrip, and to that extent, the defeat of the object of the grant. With a proviso in the proposed amendatory act requiring any State entering lands with scrip, in another State, to sell the same within a limited time, say five or six years from the date of entry, it is believed that no good reason exists why the modification prayed for should not be granted.

I, therefore, respectfully recommend the passage of a joint resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives to use their influence to procure the passage of an amendatory act, such as is prayed for in the memorial, with a proviso requiring the sale of the land within some reasonable time, as before suggested. The Commissioner of the General Land Office had called the attention of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Agricultural College to the fact that, while the act passed at your last session, and approved March 6, 1865, accepting the Congressional grant, contains a provision in the fifth section thereof authorizing the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Agricultural College, under the direction of the Board, to sell the land scrip which might be received under the Congressional grant; no authority is conferred to transfer or assign the scrip which may be so sold. The General Assembly, in passing the act above alluded to, doubtless considered the power to transfer as incident to the power to sell, but to obviate all doubt on that subject, I respectfully recommend that the fifth section of the act accepting the grant be so amended as to expressly empower the assignment of the scrip when sold. To that end, I herewith respectfully submit for your consideration an amendatory bill, prepared under the supervision of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Agricultural College. I am informed that the market is now glutted with land scrip issued to other States, and that the result is that it is selling as low as fifty cents per acre. At these rates the scrip to which Indiana is entitled under the grant, representing, as it will, 390,000 acres of land, would be entirely inadequate to the accomplishment of the object in view. Under these circumstances, if a modification of the act of Congress so as to permit the entry of land, as before suggested, can not be procured, sound policy manifestly requires that the scrip which Indiana may receive should not, for the present, be put in market.

I, therefore, recommend that the act of last session be further amended so as to prohibit the sale of any of the scrip for a limited time, to be named in the act, or that a price be designated below which it shall not be sold.

I beg leave, also, to call the attention of the General Assembly to the fact that, by the fifth section of the Act of Congress approved July 2, 1862, the grant in aid of Agricultural Colleges is made subject to the condition that any State which shall take and claim the benefit of the provisions of that act shall provide within five years, at least, not less than one college, as described in the fourth section of the act, or the grant to such State shall cease, and said State shall be bound to pay the United States the amount received of any lands previously sold. As less than two of the five years remain within which a college must be provided to prevent a forfeiture, I respectfully suggest the propriety of an application to Congress for an extension of the time limited for the establishment of such college.

CONRAD BAKER,

Lieutenant Governor, acting as Governor.

Message from the Governor, with accompanying documents, by Mr. Jacobs, his Private Secretary :

To the Senate and House of Representatives :

I herewith transmit to the General Assembly the report of the Board of Control of the Northern Indiana State Prison, with the accompanying reports of the Superintendent of Construction and the Warden of the prison. From the report of the Board of Control, it appears that a contract for the completion of the prison has been made, at a price which, according to the accompanying estimates of the work to be done, will require $179,747 59; which sum is in excess of existing appropriations on account of construction, to the amount of $97,747 49. And for this last named amount, an appropriation is asked by the Board. And a further appropriation is solicited by the Board of $30,000 for the erection of the kitchen, dining-room and hospital buildings of the Prison, and the still further sum of $8,133 71; to discharge the debt of that amount accrued prior to the 15th day of Nov., 1865, on account of current expenses, making the aggregate amount asked to be appropriated, $135,921 20.

Whilst I have great confidence in the integrity and capacity of the Board of Control, I am not sufficiently informed as to the past history and present necessities of this Prison, to justify me in making any specific recommendation on the subjects embraced in the report. I therefore commend the consideration of the report to the General Assembly, feeling assured that such measures will be enacted, and such appropriations made, as the condition of our finances will justify and the public welfare may require.

I also herewith respectfully transmit a copy of a communication from Andrew Wallace, Esq., President of the Board of Trustees of the Benevolent Institutions, accompanied by a copy of the report made to him by the Superintendent of the Indiana Institute for the Education of the Blind. No appropriation is asked for the Hospital but it will be seen by the report of the Superintendent of the Institute for the Blind, that the existing appropriations for the Institute for the Education of the Blind are largely insufficient to meet current expenses, and to defray the cost of repairs which would seem to be absolutely necessary to prevent a suspension of the operations of this institution, and I therefore earnestly recommend that, after investigating its condition and ascertaining its necessities, through the appropriate committees, such appropriations be made as will enable the Institute to continue the mission of mercy for which it was wisely established.

CONRAD BAKER,

Lieutenant Governor, Acting as Governor.

Mr. Burton, from the Committee on Education, made the following minority report:

MR. SPEAKER:

We, the undersigned, members of the Committee on Education, to whom was referred House bill No. 208, proposing to amend the school law so as to tax negroes and mulattoes for school purposes, and admit colored children into the common schools, beg leave to differ with the majority of the committee and make the following minority report, viz:

In the first place we are opposed to legislating for the negro in any way, because

1st. We believe that our Government was established by white men, for white men and women, and children, and their posterity forever. That if the two races are to live and exist together, the black must and should remain as the government found it, subordinate to the white race. Now that the institution of slavery is broken up, the negroes will of necessity flock to that section, State or country which holds out the greatest inducements. The States refusing to do anything for them, will first of all be relieved of a free colored population, which we hold to be a nuisance to any community of Anglo-Saxons. We desire to rid our State of this degraded, inferior race, rather than invite it hither, which we believe would be the effect of breaking down the barriers and admitting the negroes to our common schools. This barrier removed, but a short time will elapse ere another and still another will be removed, and the political and social equality of the races will be inevitable. Several steps have already been taken in that direction, and this is but another, hence we resist it, as we have all others in the same direction, as we intend to fight over every inch of the ground marked out for the elevation of the negro race in our midst.

L. S. GLAZEBROOK,
JOHN M. STUCKEY,
STEPHEN S. BURTON,

Minority Committee.

Those who voted in the negative were,

James Blake, Commissioner of the "Soldiers' National Cemetery at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania," appointed as such by the Governor of the State, together with the printed documents referred to in the report, and marked "A," "B," "C" and "D," respectively, and commend the same to your careful consideration. I also transmit herewith a printed pamphlet, entitled, "Soldiers' National Cemetery, at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania," giving the correspondence in relation to the enterprise, which resulted in the incorporation and establishment of this Cemetery. From the documents submitted, it will be seen that the amount originally assessed as the quota of Indiana in defraying the expenses of the undertaking was $4,625 83; in part payment of which, the sum of $1,156 was, on the 1st day of June, 1864, remitted by the Governor to the Treasurer of the Association, leaving a balance of $3,469 80 still due from this State, for which last named sum requisitions have long since been made, but have not been honored, for want of the necessary appropriations to meet the requisitions. Gettysburgh is the only battle-field of the late war in the North, and the remains of some eighty of the heroic soldiers of Indiana have been carefully interred in the National Cemetery which has been established on the ground where they fell in defence of the country.

I respectfully recommend that immediate provision be made for the payment of the balance of the assessment originally made as the quota of this State, amounting, as before stated, to the sum of $3,469 80.

It will be seen by Col. Blake's report, that owing to the increase in price of labor and materials, he estimates that the original assessment will be insufficient to meet our share of the cost of the undertaking, by the sum of some $2,400. Whether an appropriation should be now made to meet this estimated deficit, is respectfully submitted to the General Assembly, without any recommendation on that branch of the subject.

Col. Blake, with the patriotism and public spirit which has characterized his long and valuable life, at the request of the Governor without compensation, took upon himself the duties of Commissioner for this State, visited Gettysburg, and participated in the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners in July last, performing the trusts confided to him in the most acceptable manner.

I would be doing injustice to my own feelings did I not thus officially express the high appreciation, in which his services are held.

CONRAD BAKER,

Lieutenant Governor, Acting as Governor.

Mr. Henricks moved that the message be laid on the table, and that part which refers to appropriations, be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Which was agreed to.

Message from the Governor, by Mr. Jacobs, his Private Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Governor to inform your honorable body that he has approved and signed enrolled House bill No. 199, entitled "an act to provide for the distribution of the interest on the School, Sinking and Trust Funds of this State, held for the support of common schools, to repeal all laws in conflict therewith, and declaring an emergency," and that the same has been deposited in the office of the Secretary of State.

To the Senate, and

House of Representatives :

At the commencement of the present special session, his Excellency, the Governor, in his message, invited your attention to the necessity of the speedy establishment of an Institution in which Indiana soldiers and seamen, disabled by wounds or disease contracted in the service of the United States, shall be cared for and maintained during the continuance of the disabilities under which they are laboring. He also said, in the same connection, that the United States General Hospital at Jeffersonville is one of the most complete establishments of the kind in the country, and is well adapted to the purposes of a Soldiers' Home, and that he had written to the Secretary of War and Surgeon General for information as to whether the Government would be willing to turn over this Hospital to the State of Indiana to be used in the establishment of such an Institution, should the State desire it, and that the answer when received would be communicated to the General Assembly.

Since the departure of Governor Morton a communication has been received from the office of the Surgeon General, in reply to his letter of inquiry mentioned in his message, in which it is stated that, upon application to that effect by the State of Indiana, the Surgeon General will recommend that the General Hospital at Jeffersonville be turned over to the State authorities, upon the same terms as the Tripler Hospital was turned over to the State of Ohio. A copy of this communication from the Surgeon General's Office is herewith respectfully submitted.

I have no definite information as to the terms upon which Tripler Hospital was turned over to the State of Ohio, but believe that the only terms required was a guarantee on the part of the State that the property donated should be faithfully applied to carry out the object for which it was given.

I have written to the Surgeon General, since the receipt of this communication, for information as to the precise terms upon which Tripler Hospital was donated to the state of Ohio.

If the land upon which the General Hospital at Jeffersonville is situated, comprising, as I am informed, about one hundred and sixty acres, can be procured at a reasonable price, this offer of the Government to turn over the Hospital buildings, with their appurtenances, would seem to afford a solution of the Soldiers' Home question, so far as its location is concerned. Indeed, if such an institution is to be at all provided by the State, or the people, and of this I do not permit myself to doubt, we cannot afford to decline the offer of buildings and improvements of the value of not less than three hundred thousand dollars, adapted to the accomplishment of the very object we have in view, whether the owners of the land will or will not consent to sell it for a reasonable price.

If they refuse thus to sell, the remedy of the State is plain. It is to provide by legislative enactment for the taking of the property, and for the assessment of just compensation, to which the owners would be entitled under the Constitution. With these suggestions the whole subject is again commended to your careful consideration.

Whenever an answer is received from the Surgeon General, as to the terms upon which Tripler Hospital was turned over to the State of Ohio, it will be communicated to the General Assembly.

CONRAD BAKER,

Lieut. Gov., acting Gov.

Message from His Excellency the Governor, by his Private Secretary, Mr. Jacobs.

To the Senate and

House of Representatives :

I beg leave to respectfully call your attention to the propriety passing a Joint Resolution, asking Congress to make a donation lands to the company incorporated under the laws of this State construct a harbor at Michigan City.

Some forty years ago there was cut off from the Territory of Michigan a strip of land ten miles in width, which was added to the State of Indiana, for the purpose of affording her a lake harbor. For the purpose of constructing a harbor at Michigan City, the Government made appropriations, extending through a series of years, amounting the aggregate to about $\frac{2}{3}$ \$135,000, but these were given in such small sums, and at intervals so distant from each other, as to render them comparatively ineffectual; yet, with all these drawbacks, a harbor was made, which, for some years, gave to our State quite an amount of shipping. On the completion of the Michigan Central Railroad, the harbor at Michigan City was abandoned by the Government, and for want of repairs, and being exposed to the storms of the lake, the upper works which had been erected, were gradually loosened and fell, and the sand drifting across the cribs, finally choked up the mouth of the creek, and the harbor became inaccessible to any but small fishing vessels.

Citizens of Indiana, convinced that the State should have a port on our great inland seas as well as Ohio and Illinois, formed a Company under the laws of the State, for the purpose of rebuilding this harbor. To this Company, Congress ceded all the Government work that remained, and gave permission for the work to be prosecuted as had already been successfully done by a Company at Milwaukee, under a like cession by the Government. The Michigan City Harbor Company are thoroughly organized, and already stock has been subscribed to the enterprise, amounting to $135,000; and assurances have been received by the Company that the L. N. A. & C. R. R. Company will take stock to the amount of $100,000 as soon as it is ascertained that the balance necessary to complete the work can be procured.

Competent engineers employed to examine the work, have estimated that the entire amount required to complete the work and secure to our State a permanent lake harbor, will not exceed $300,000.

On the benefits to be derived by our State from the establishment of a port of entry and departure on its northern borders, it is difficult to place too high an estimate. In the transportation of wheat from points north of the Wabash, fifteen cents per bushel will be saved the producer, that being the difference between railroad and lake transportation. Salt from Saginaw, which is extensively used by our packers, with this harbor completed, could be delivered at Michigan City as cheaply as at Chicago, thereby resulting in an immense saving to the people of Indiana who reside north of the Wabash. The iron mines of Lake Superior, too, would be opened to our State, and in view of our coal beds and the vast quantities of bog ore which is so valuable when mixed with the Lake Superior iron, the proprietors of mines on Lake Superior would erect blast furnaces and rolling mills in Indiana, shipping their crude ore to this State for that purpose, and therefore furnish a market for the coal and iron deposits of our State. There would also be a saving of some forty per cent. on pine lumber, as it could be delivered at Michigan City at the same rates as at Chicago. The limits of this communication would not permit an enumeration of all the advantages to result to the State from the construction of a harbor on its northern border; a few of them, only, have been alluded to.

In asking Congress to grant to the Company a donation of lands to aid in the construction of the harbor, the General Assembly would only be soliciting that numerous precedents furnished by land appropriations in aid of other public works, should be followed. I respectfully recommend the passage of a joint resolution, requesting Congress to make a donation of lands to aid in the completion of the work.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the present Legislature to take immediate measures to protect the public from the combinations, consolidations and extortions of the different Railroad Companies of the State, and to that end they should fix a reasonable tariff of charges for all roads, and compel them to receive and transport freight in the order it may be offered, and without favoritism of any kind; and in default thereof their charters shall be declared forfeited to the use of the State.

Message from the Senate by Mr. Wilson, their Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the President of the Senate to inform the House that the Senate has passed the following engrossed bill thereof, to-wit:

Engrossed Senate bill No. 198. Entitled "an act repealing an act for the relief of the families of soldiers, seamen and mariners, and sick and wounded Indiana soldiers in hospitals in the State and United States service, and of those who have died or been disabled in such service, and prescribing the duties of certain officers therein named," approved March 4, 1865, and providing for the collection and disposition of the taxes levied in pursuance thereof, for the year 1865, and providing when the same shall take effect, in which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Message from the Governor by his Private Secretary Mr. Jacobs:

To the Senate and

House of Representatives:

I herewith respectfully transmit a communication from the Treasurer, Auditor and Secretary of State, and the Clerk of the Supreme Court in relation to the exposed condition of the public records, archives and papers of the State, especially as pertaining to the offices of the Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State. In view of the inevitable burthens in the shape of taxation, which must be borne by the public for some years to come, I would gladly avoid, if a sense of duty would permit, any suggestion, the effect of which might be to increase the levy for State purposes. But when the extreme danger of destruction to which the public records are now exposed, and the fact that the rents now paid for rooms and offices would, in a few years, procure safe depositories, and the additional fact that the value of these records cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, are all considered, sound economy, as well as duty to the public, would seem to require that some action should speedily be taken to avoid so great a calamity as the destruction of the archives of the State would be. It will be seen by the communication before referred to, and herewith transmitted, that the State officers suggest two plans for finding offices, without expressing a preference for either. One of these plans is to purchase the banking House at the intersection of Illinois street and Kentucky ave-one; the other to build new offices on the grounds owned by the State, immediately north of the State House. I have given the subject some consideration, and, in my judgment, safety, economy and good policy, would dictate the purchase of the building before mentioned, if it can be procured on reasonable terms.

The considerations in favor are that, without any addition thereto, it is believed the building can be made to accommodate the Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary, of State, on the first floor, and furnish a room for each of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and an audience room for their consultations and for the hearing of oral arguments, on the second floor. It also contains two superior vaults, in which the more valuable of the public records can be kept. It is isolated and comparatively free from exposure to fire, possessing a metallic roof, and, in view of its position, might almost be considered as fire-proof. By its purchase the public records could at once be removed to a place of security, the payment of rents for rooms and offices would at once cease, and the General Assembly would, at the outset, know the whole amount necessary to be expended to accomplish the object. Besides all this, if the lot and building should be purchased at a fair price, and the State should hereafter not need the same, there is not even a remote probability that the property could not at any future time be sold for its original cost. If, however, on the other hand, the plan of building offices should be adopted, the building would not probably be completed short of a year from this time, during which rents would continue to be paid, and the public records would continue to be exposed to destruction. The expenditures, also, would doubtless be much greater than would be required to purchase the building before alluded to; and whatever the estimates might be, the ultimate actual cost of the building would be a matter of conjecture, and would never be ascertained until the work was completed.

At my request, a diagram has been prepared, showing the number and situation of the rooms and vaults of the bank building before mentioned, and also the size and shape of the lot upon which it is situated, which diagram is herewith respectfully submitted. In view of the whole subject I earnestly recommend that a Joint Committee of both Houses be at once appointed to visit and inspect the offices of the Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State, and their surroundings, to inquire into the amount of rents paid by these officers and by the Judges of the Supreme Court for their chambers, and to consider the suggestions of the State officers contained in the communication herewith submitted, with instructions to the committee to report at an early day in favor of such action as all the circumstances and the public interest may require.

CONRAD BAKER,
Lieutenant Governor, acting as Governor.

To the Senate and House of Representatives :

GENTLEMEN: We respectfully, but most earnestly, ask the early attention of your honorable bodies to the dangerous and exposed condition of the public archives, records and papers of the State and urge upon you the speedy adoption of measures for their safety and preservation.

The offices of Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State, surrounded as they are, by business houses, mechanic shops, and with the numerous occupants of the upper stories of the building, could not, if a fire should break out, be saved from almost total destruction. Any one who will take a survey of the premises and the surroundings, must be forcibly impressed with the impending danger.

Some safe and convenient building should be provided at once for these offices, as also for the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Judge of the Supreme Court, &c.

Several plans have been suggested, among which may be mentioned the following :

The purchase of the State Bank building, at the intersection of Illinois street and Kentucky avenue, which, by an addition of 40 or 60 feet at the south end, could be made to answer fully the purpose.

Another plan is its purchase for the use of the three officers first named, for which its present condition, with its vaults, &c., is probably entirely adequate. The upper story could probably be modified so as to afford rooms for the officers other named.

It has been proposed to erect, on the half square north of the State House (now occupied temporarily for barracks), a substantial two story brick building, of sufficient size to afford offices for all the State officers, and a room for the Supreme Court. This would be isolated, safe and convenient, and its cost would not exceed what would otherwise have to be paid for rents in a few years. An important consideration in such a building would be the fact of its affording, if properly constructed, rooms for all the officers of State during the erection of a State House, which, it must be admitted by all, cannot be deferred many years, and which, when begun, will require two or three years for completion.

It is respectfully suggested that the subject be referred to a Committee of your honorable bodies for investigation, and for such remedy as the dangerous condition of affairs may seem to demand,

JOHN I. MORRISON, Treasurer of State.

NELSON TRUSLER, Secretary of State.

T. B. M'CARTY, Auditor of State.

LAZ. NOBLE, Clerk of Supreme Court.

And should the bill pass it would, necessarily, involve officers and tax-payers in litigation, and inasmuch as the State school tax has been increased about 60 per cent. your committee are of the opinion that the extra tax proposed to be levied by the bill would be onerous and objectionable, therefore they recommend that said bill be laid on the table.

Which report was laid on the table.

Mr. Hamrick, from the Committee on Corporations, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The Committee on Corporations, to whom was referred sundry petitions and memorials from citizens of Lawrenceburg, would represent that as the petitions referred to in said memorials are not in the possession of this House, and as such powers and privileges as may be necessary for said city will be embodied in a general bill now in course of preparation, the committee would recommend that said memorials be laid upon the table.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Stuart, from the Committee on the State Library, presented the following report from the State Librarian :

To the Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives :

Though not required by the statutes to make a report at the present session of your honorable body, I nevertheless deem it a duty to present to you an abstract statement of the condition of the department which you have confided to my care and keeping.

Since the last regular session but few additions have been made to the Library, owing in part to the want of room for books, and the unusual high prices of standard works. I have effected quite a number of exchanges for duplicate copies of Indiana Reports, and in this way have been enabled to husband the Library funds. The standing appropriation for the current year was all exhausted when I came into office, hence I have drawn from the fund appropriated at the last session, the greater part of which still remains in the State Treasury.

Quite a large number of Reports, Journals, Laws and other public documents have been received from different States, and the Canalas, a register of which may be found in the Library.

Among the additions to our Trophy Hall will be found the following :

One hundred and twenty-eight flags belonging to infantry regiments.

Four flags belonging to cavalry regiments.

Three flags belonging to batteries.

Seventeen guidons.

One rebel flag captured at Pleasant Hill, La., by the 16th Mounted Infantry, April 9, 1864.

One large rebel flag, captured at Columbia S. C., and presented to Gov. Morton by the 140th Regiment Indiana Volunteers, taken from the Capitol buildings.

One rebel flag captured at Columbia, S. C., by U. S. forces, Febbruary 17, 1865, and presented to Gov. Morton by Adjutant Parks, of the 12th Indiana Volunteers.

One rebel black flag, raised by the rebels on the College building at Russleville, Ky., and captured with a lot of ordnance stores, by a detachment of Company A., 50th Regiment Indiana Volunteers, under command of Lieut. McCoy. Deposited in the Library by Lieutenant Colonel T. T. Welles, 50th Regiment Indiana Volunteers.

One saw-fish, deposited in Library by Abel Wilson, Company B., 147th Regiment Indiana Volunteers. Captured at Indianola, Texas.

One large tooth, found in the bed of White River twenty-five years ago. Deposited in Library by Thomas J. Brooks.

One rebel sword, captured in action near McMinnville, Tenn., and presented by Capt. J. J. Howard, 17th Regiment Indiana Volunteers.

One breech loading cannon, made at Macon, Ga., for Forest's rebel cavalry. Captured at Selma, Ala., by the 17th Regiment Indiana Volunteers. Dug up from the Cemetery.

We feel much the need of more room for Library purposes, as well as for the Flags and Trophies that are now rapidly accumulating in our Trophy Department. When the rooms, now occupied by the Adjutant General, are vacated, this inconvenience will be remedied. And yet it may be well for your honorable body to consider the insecure and unsafe condition of the Library and relics of the war. In case of fire, it would be impossible to save from the conflagration many of the books and trophies now in the Library; and while the books might, some of them, be replaced, no money could replace the sad mementoes which tell of the part that Indiana has taken in this great struggle for the nation's life, and the preservation of that glorious Union bequeathed to us by the Fathers of the Republic.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

B. F. FOSTER,

State Librarian.

Which report was laid on the table.

A message from His Excellency, the Governor, by His Private Secretary, Mr. Jacobs.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 29th, 1865.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I have just received from divers citizens of Monroe county the communication herewith respectfully transmitted, making a proposition for the establishment of an Agricultural College, under the Congressional grant made in aid of institutions of this character.

The proposition is highly creditable to the liberality of the gentlemen who make it, and their ability to carry out the proposition, if accepted, can not be doubted.

I trust it will, with other propositions heretofore made by citizens of other parts of the State, receive that careful consideration which the importance of the subject, and the liberality and merits of the proposition, demand.

I beg leave, in this connection, to suggest that if it should be the pleasure of the General Assembly to locate an Agricultural College at Bloomington, in conjunction with the State University, the sale of the land scrip, which the State may receive under the grant, might be avoided by an assignment of the scrip to the Board of Trustees of the University. Such an assignment would enable the Trustees of the University to enter public lands in other States, as the assignees of the State.

CONRAD BAKER,

Lieutenant Governor, acting as Governor.

The following is the communication referred to :

BLOOMINGTON, IND , November 27, 1865.

To His Excellency, Conrad Baker, Governor of Indiana :

The undersigned, citizens of Monroe county, Indiana, being desirous of procuring the location of the Agricultural College at or near the town of Bloomington, with the State University, hereby pledge ourselves that the citizens of our county will purchase and donate to the Trustees of the said Agricultural College, within three months after the location at this place, the Geological and Mineralogical Cabinet of the late Dr. David Dale Owen, which could not be procured in this country or Europe for less than seventy-five thousand dollars; and, also, a proper and suitable farm, near to our town, that will be worth at least twenty-five thousand dollars; which proposition we request your Excellency to lay before the Legislature.

SAM. H. BUSKIRK, and others.

STATE OF INDIANA, Monroe county :

We, the undersigned, Clerk, Treasurer, and Auditor, within and for said county, do hereby certify that the persons whose names appear to the foregoing proposition to the Legislature of the State of Indiana, now in session, and personally known to us, to be men of character and standing in this community, and that we are satisfied, at a fair cash valuation, they are worth at least three hundred thousand dollars.

Witness our hands and seals this 27th day of November, 1865.

MILTON McPHETRIDGE, Auditor M. C.

P. L. D. MITCHELL, Treasurer.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Adjutant General of the State :

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF INDIANA, }
 ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Indianapolis, Ind., December 3, 1865. }

HON. JOHN U. PETTIT, Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR:—In compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives, passed on the 28th ultimo, which reads as follows, to-wit :

Resolved, That the Adjutant General be requested to report to the House the amount unexpended of the appropriations made for his office at the last regular session of the General Assembly for the year 1865, together with his estimate of the amount that will necessarily be required of the appropriations made for the year 1866. And that he further report the amount of clerical force that will, in his opinion, be necessary for the proper performance of the duties of his office for the year 1866, and a statement of the work remaining to be completed which is not a part of the ordinary and regular business of the office.

I have the honor to submit the following report :

The appropriations made at the last regular session for the expenses of the office were as follows :

For 1865, to complete the unfinished and deferred work...	$ 9,200 00
For 1865, for the current work.....	12,000 00
Making.....	$21,200 00

The expenditures up to the 31st of December next will amount to.....	$13,646 84
leaving unexpended balance.....	$ 7,553 16
There was also appropriated for expenses for 1866, for the current work.....	$12,000 00
Making, with unexpended balance.....	$19,553 16

My estimate is that $9,553 16 will be sufficient for the expenses of 1866, leaving of the appropriations to be applied to other objects $10,000.

The expenses during the present year have been increased somewhat beyond my expectations at the time the appropriations were made, because of the absolute necessity of entirely refitting the office with new cases and furniture so as to secure a proper systemization and arrangement of records and papers, without which business could only be done at great disadvantage, involving delay and an increase of expense. The amount thus expended is near $1,500, but when a comparison is made between the former arrangement and the present it is believed no just cause of complaint can be urged for making the change.

A portion of the time, during the present year, eleven clerks were employed, but the average number has been eight. The expense for clerk hire at this time is $925 per month, and one messenger and porter at $35 per month. By the 1st of January next I hope to get along with six clerks, and within two or three months thereafter may be able to further reduce the force. But as the work yet to be done, in addition to the ordinary and regular business of the office, is very considerable and cannot be accomplished without the assistance of experienced clerks, it is impossible to state with exactness, the reduction that may be made. As heretofore, I shall endeavor to keep the expenses of the office as low as the demands of the public service will allow.

The business of the office, that is to say, the unfinished and deferred work, and the ordinary or regular work, is so blended together that I cannot undertake to convey an idea of it except as a whole.

The records of the officers commissioned in the various organizations of the State are complete, and have all been transcribed and placed in the hands of the printer. Two large volumes will be required for this part of the report, which will contain the names of over 17,000 officers and about 300 pages of historical matter. The first volume will be laid upon your desks in a day or two or as soon as the binding can be done. The other is being printed as fast as possible. The services of two persons are required in collecting facts and preparing the accompanying historical sketches, and in reading the proof-sheets of the entire work.

Many of the records of non-commissioned officers and privates (altogether not less than two hundred and fifty thousand names) are defective in not showing what became of the men. Probably there are 30,000 cases of this kind, arising from the fact that no records of the early organizations, except the muster-in-rolls, were filed in this office, and even all of these are not on file. Muster-out-rolls which account for each soldier, were not furnished prior to the month of April last. Through the courtesy of officers, formerly connected with the organizations alluded to, the rolls of the office have been perfected and increased largely during the year. It has been my aim to make these records full and complete, and to publish, as required by the resolution of your honorable body passed last session, a faithful and accurate military history of each officer and soldier from this State during the whole time he may have been connected with the service. The missing data I hope to procure from the War Department in time for insertion in regular order in the proper volumes of the official report. Up to this time the labors devolving on the department have prevented the officers in charge from furnishing copies of records so extended as these. In the meantime the records that are complete are being arranged and transcribed for publication. In addition, I have in preparation and will complete as soon as the regiments remaining in service are mustered out, a full report of all the facts and documents relating to recruiting and organizing troops, enrollment, quotas, credits and drafts, local bounties, relief to soldiers families, organization and service of the Indiana Legion, services of Minute Men during the Morgan raid, State arms, expenditures by the State on account of the war, list of deaths in rebel prisons and of soldiers buried at Gettysburg and on other battle fields, the aggregate of troops raised and of deaths, discharges for disability, and desertions, with other valuable and interesting facts worthy of preservation.

Many thousand soldiers have been discharged or mustered out at hospitals, or while absent from their commands on detached service, portions of regiments and companies have been discharged in detachments by reason of expiration of terms of service, and other portions have been assigned and transferred to other regiments to complete the terms of their enlistments. To keep trace of these classes of troops and perfect their records has been a work of no small magnitude and labor, but its importance must be apparent to every one. In adjusting every claim, it is not only necessary to produce official evidence of the muster-in of the soldier, but it is, also, essential to show his military service and history, as for instance: the date and cause of his death, discharge, or muster-out, &c. When a regiment is discharged evidence to procure pensions, back pay, &c., is furnished from this office; while in the field it is given by the regimental and company commanders. Applications for evidence of this character from discharged soldiers and from the friends, relatives and representatives of deceased soldiers, as well as from the Pension office and Bureaus of the Treasury Department at Washington, are being made constantly, without any prospect of a decrease for months to come.

From the work occasioned by the muster-out of a single regiment a general idea may be formed of the labors required by the muster-out of eighty-six regiments and twenty-four batteries since the middle of June last. A regiment usually requires about two hundred separate official certificates from the records of this office to enable its officers and men to draw their mileage, pay, bounties, &c. These can only be made up from careful examination of the records and files, and frequently several days are required to complete them for a single regiment.

The business pertaining to correspondence, personal inquiries, regiments in the field, keeping up records and other matters innumerable, comprising the ordinary and regular work, has been constant and heavy, and must so continue for a year at least.

The final settlement of affairs connected with the Indiana Legion and the adjustment of account for sums received from the General Government, has required considerable time and labor, and is only partially completed. These matters are of very great importance to the State, and cannot with safety be postponed.

Important business, relating to Indiana War Claims, required my presence at Washington for about three weeks in June and July last, and one of my clerks was also there for about the same length of time attending to important business connected with the interests of Indiana troops belonging to General Sherman's army. These trips, of course, retarded the business of the office, and increased its expenses. The adjustment of the War Claims of the State, filed against the General Government, amounting to over $2,000,000, has been intrusted by the Governor to the Auditor of State and myself, and this duty will probably require me to spend a portion of my time during the coming year, in Washington.

For a more extended account of the transactions during the past year, and of the work remaining to be done, reference is hereby made to my communication presented to the Legislature with the Governor's message, at the present session, a copy of which is here appended.

In conclusion, I respectfully suggest that the Military Committee of the House, in conjunction with the Military Committee of the Senate—or at least the chairman thereof—be directed to thoroughly examine this office, and make such recommendations as they may deem for the best interests of the public service.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. H. TERREL,

Adjutant General Indiana.

Which, on motion, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The Speaker laid before the House the following report from the warden of the State Prison South:

INDIANA STATE PRISON, SOUTH, }

1st. The average expense for provisioning each prisoner in my charge, per day, during October, 1865, was nineteen and one half cents.

2. The books of the prison do not show the number of days each prisoner worked during the months of August, September and October, 1865, but I enclose herewith the statement of days' labor made under contracts each day during those months, which I hope may answer the purpose of the resolution.

3. I also enclose herewith copies of all contracts under which prisoners are now working, which embrace all contracts for use of motive power of prison.

Very respectfully,

STATE OF INDIANA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
INDIANAPOLIS, December 8, 1865. }

HON. JOHN U. PETTIT,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR: In compliance with the resolution of the House I herewith transmit a copy of the letter addressed to Gov. Morton by Chas. Butler Esq. in relation to the Public Debt of Indiana.

Respectfully your obedient Servant,

CONRAD BAKER,

Lieut. Governor, Acting as Governor.

CHICAGO, February 8, 1865.

HON. O. P. MORTON :

MY DEAR SIR: In reply to your inquiry respecting the understanding in regard to the payment of the registered debt of Indiana created under the acts of January 19, 1846 and the supplemental act of January 1847, known as the Public Debt Acts, I would state that a reference to the proceedings of the General Assembly for the session of 1845-6, in reference to the public debt, the report of Mr. Secret of the joint committee, to whom it was referred, and who reported the bill, the provisions of the act itself and particularly the provisions of the act of 1847, which latter act was passed as declared on the face of it "to demonstrate the good faith of the State of Indiana" and to induce confidence on the part of the public and of her creditors in particular, and to secure the principal of adjustment as provided for and intended in the first bill, all furnish the clearest and most satisfactory proof that it was intended that the debt would be fully paid, principal and interest at the end of the 20 years if not before. The bill contemplated a revenue tax on property of 25 cts. on the $100, and a poll tax of 75 cts., the product of this tax as shown by the table appended to the report, it was believed would be ample to cover the interest after 1851, and allowing it to operate on the increase of assessable property and of polls (the former of which was estimated at only six millions annually) it was shown that after a few years it would yield a surplus to be applied towards the payment of the principal, and that the operation would be to satisfy both principal and interest by the time of maturity. It must be remembered that the people were then very anxious to provide for the ultimate payment of the principal. I may say they manifested an intense desire to provide for it, and get it out of the way; and you will see that by the 14th section of the act of 1847 which I beg you to read carefully as embodying the intent, and the pledged faith of the State on this point, and you will find that the General Assembly then pledged itself solemnly that the provisions made by taxation and otherwise in the original and supplemental bills for the payment of the debt, principal and interest should be and "remain inviolate," and in force until these objects were accomplished, this pledge as you will see contemplated the continuance of the taxes above mentioned and the application of the produce of them to the specific objects named till the debts were paid and you have only to consider that if the pledge embodied in this section had been kept according to its spirit and intent, the whole debt principal and interest would be paid off at this day, for the increase of assessable property and of polls has greatly exceeded the calculations and the anticipations which were then made and indulged.

One, at this day, can hardly conceive of the exhausted and impoverished condition and the utter helplessness of the State of Indiana at that time, the reports of the State officials in the several departments from 1839-40 to 1845, and the legislative acts passed during those years, the reports on the public debt bill, the debates on the same bill, and the recitals and provisions of the bill itself will convey some knowledge and shed much light on the subject, and out of this established and recognized inability grew the arrangement adapting the burden to the back and leveling down the rate of interest to the then impoverished and disabled condition of the State, it will be perceived that no interest was allowed on past due coupons and the principal and interest were funded to a period sometime ahead, when it should begin to run, and then at the small rate of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the coupon portion of it, and keeping it then for a fifth of a century to allow of growth and increase, and sufficient ability to pay it off; or, if refunded, then to do it on a proper basis and at a rate of interest which should indicate the ability as well as the good faith and honor of the State.

It was not expected that the State, in 1866, would take any advantage of, or desire to hold on to any arrangement graduating rates of interest which grew out of her necessities in 1845-6-7. Those acts, as has been stated, grew out of and are evidence of her necessities—I might say extremities—which the creditors of the State recognized in a truly noble and liberal spirit, and by concessions cheerfully made expressive of their sympathy. The action of the State in 1866, in respect of these same matters, should be prompted by and be expressive of her prosperity, ability and grateful appreciation.

It is proper that I should add here, that the arrangement made by the State of Indiana by the acts of 1846 and 1847, for the adjustment of the public debt and the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville, was an entire and single arrangement, the design of which was, as declared in the acts and in the report of Mr. Secrest, to provide for and secure the payment of the whole debt, principal and interest, the one-half of it by taxation, the other half by a pledge of the Canal, its tolls and revenue, and lands in trust as security, and upon this trust the General Assembly put the broad seal of the State's pledged faith that the security thereby provided should be and remain inviolate forever until that portion of the debt, principal and interest charged on it, should be paid and discharged out of its tolls, revenues and lands, or assumed or paid by the State, the right to do which was fully and carefully reserved to the State. In other words, it was a mortgage which the State reserved the right to discharge and thus redeem the canal after twenty years.

I regret that I am constrained to write this letter under a pressure, and from home, and that I have not before me all the necessary documents to refer to, and that it must be necessarily brief; but the facts stated and the references made will, I trust, enable you to gather the information desired as to the understanding and expectation which were had and formed at the time of the passage of the acts referred to. At another time I propose to give to the people of Indiana the history, in full, of a transaction or epoch in the history of the State, full of interest to them, and deeply affecting her character as a State.

With great respect I am, dear sir,

Truly your obedient servant,

CHARLES BUTLER.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Miller, from the Committee on the Organization of Courts of Justice, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The Committee on the Organization of Courts, to whom was referred House bill No. 259, have had the same under consideration, and direct me to report it back to the House, and recommend that it do pass.

Which report was laid on the table.

Mr Griffith, from the Committee on the State Prison North, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The Committee on the State Prison North have instructed me to submit to the House the following report :

The committee have had under consideration the Report of the Board of Control of said Prison. and also the Report of the Superintendent of Construction.

Your committee have not visited said Prison, and cannot speak from personal observation, but, with a proper desire to fill the position assigned to them, they have had before them, in person, R. W. Epperson, said Superintendent, as well as his Report, and from candid consideration and mature deliberation, have arrived at the following conclusions :

It may seem improper, at this time, that any additional appropriation be asked for said Prison, when so many necessary demands are made upon the Treasury of the State of Indiana. But we cannot forget that, however onerous the burthen which may be pressing upon the people at this time may be, nevertheless so much is due to the interests of society and the general good of the State, that we are compelled to foster and sustain, in a proper way, the Institutions already erected by her, and which have interests and prosperity of the State solely in view.

The Board of Control ask for additional appropriations to the amount of ninety-seven thousand seven hundred and forty-seven dollars, to complete the work already begun. The Legislature, at its last session, appropriated the sum of eighty-two thousand dollars for the completion of the outer walls, sentry towers, erection of offices, and construction of the south wing of the cell house. Sixty thousand dollars was appropriated for the last named purpose, one-half of which was to be expended in 1865, and one-half in 1866. Of the gross amount of appropriations made, fifty-three thousand dollars have been used, leaving for the year 1866 some twenty-nine thousand dollars unexpended. Of the appropriations made at the last session, five thousand dollars were diverted from use of main walls and towers for the completion of offices, as it was found necessary at the time of executing the plan for the construction of offices, that they be both completed at the same time; consequently the diversion of said fund from its original purpose. There then remains an apparent necessity for an appropriation of sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars for the completion of the main walls and sentry towers; otherwise the unprotected condition of the walls, as they now stand, will cause much loss of work already done upon them: they therefore think the appropriation necessary.

Further, the Board of Control ask for an appropriation of seventy-six thousand dollars for the completion of the south wing of the cell house and guard house, which are inseparable. Your committee, believing that security, proper subordination, the increase of crime, and convictions for the same, which is filling up said Prison very fast, demand an additional appropriation, they have concluded to recommend an additional appropriation of forty-six thousand dollars, for the completion of the cell house and guard house; making, in the aggregate, the sum of sixty-two thousand eight hundred dollars: and this we do unanimously.

We also suggest, that convict labor be used in the further construction of said Prison, and that no more contracts be entered into by the Board of Control with any parties, which shall militate against this recommendation, unless said contracts be made more remunerative to the State than the employment of convict labor can be in the construction of the Prison.

Mr. Griffith moved to refer the report to the Committee on Ways and Means, with the following instructions :

“I move to concur in the report, and that the same be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, with instructions to incorporate the amount of appropriation asked for in the general appropriation bill.”

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Branham, from the Committee of Ways and Means, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The Committee of Ways and Means, to whom was referred House bill, No. 159, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the bill back to the House and recommend its passage.

Which report was laid on the table.

Mr. Newcomb, from the Committee on the Judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the petition of E. F. Dickey and other lawyers of Miami county, praying for the repeal of all laws disqualifying Indians residing within this State from testifying in cases where white persons are parties in interest, have had the same under consideration, and instruct me to report that as the House has already acted upon the subject matter of the petition, further legislation is unnecessary, and they ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Which report was laid upon the table.

Mr. Newcomb, from the Committee on the Judiciary, made the following report :

MR SPEAKER :

The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred House Joint Resolution No. 23, entitled " a Joint Resolution to amend the 11th section of the 4th article of the Constitution, so as to constitute a majority of the members elected to each House of the General Assembly a quorum to do business," have had the same under consideration, and have instructed me to report the same back and recommend its passage. It seems to the Committee that the legislative history of the State, since the adoption of the present Constitution, is the strongest possible argument in favor of the proposed amendment. The power now given to a minority—a power, too, that has been frequently exercised—to suspend the legislative power of the State by a withdrawal from the house of which such minority are members, is opposed to the principles of a representative government, and makes the minority more powerful than the majority, as one-third of either house may prevent the passage of a bill, while the Constitution requires the affirmative vote of all the members elected to each house, when a quorum of two-thirds or more is present.

The inconvenience of the present rule is further illustrated by the difficulty experienced in keeping a quorum present for the transaction of business. The sickness of members, and the necessary absence of others, frequently compel a clear majority of either house to suspend business, to the great detriment of the State and the prejudice of its Treasury.

Which report was laid upon the table.

Mr. Gregory, from the Committee on Education, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The Committee on Education, to whom was referred the memorial and petition of C. P. Newkirk and others, asking the Legislature to so amend the School Law that the teachers of common schools be required to possess less qualifications as competent teachers than is required by the present law, beg leave to report that that matter is now pending on a bill to amend section 35 of the School Law, offered by Mr. Goodman, from Crawford county, and is at the pleasure of this General Assembly.

Which report was laid on the table.

Mr. Burnes, from the Committee on Rights and Privileges, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The Committee on Rights and Privileges, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 27, entitled "an act to amend section four of an act entitled 'an act prescribing certain misdemeanors punishable only by a Justice of the Peace,'" approved June 7, 1852, have considered the same, and report the bill back without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

[Copy not furnished the State Printer.]

Which report was laid on the table.

Mr. Reece, from the select committee on Constitutional Amendments, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The undersigned, majority of the select Committee on Constitutional Amendments, to whom was referred House Joint Resolution No. 22, entitled "a Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section two, of article two, of the Constitution of the State, so as to extend the right of suffrage to females as well as males," have had the same under consideration and beg leave to report :

That this proposition is a very novel and important one, and involves questions of the highest moment to the female sex in particular, and to the community of the State in general. It has never before, to the knowledge of this Committee, arisen in such form as to elicit discussion in any Legislative body, or by the public generally, and it is invested with many speculations as to the expediency and effect upon the condition of society.

As a question of abstract right, the Committee have no doubt, that, in accordance with the principles of a democratic form of government, females are entitled to the right of suffrage. But as to the political and moral results of the grant and exercise of this right, they are not so clear ; yet in view of the past history and character of the female sex, in all ages and positions, the Committee are of the belief that the enforcement of this right by the Women of Indiana, would not only tend to exalt and ennoble the sex themselves, but would eventually tend to promote the general welfare.

They would therefore respectfully recommend the passage of the Joint Resolution.

Which report was laid on the table.

Mr. Newcomb, from the special committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, to whom was referred special message of the acting Governor, together with the communication of the Surgeon General of the United States Army, relative to the State of the Jeffersonville General Hospital, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the following concurrent resolution, and recommend its adoption to-wit :

A message from the Governor, by Mr. Jacobs, his Private Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Governor to communicate to your honorable body the following message and accompanying documents :

STATE OF INDIANA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
INDIANAPOLIS, December 12, 1865. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives :

I herewith respectfully transmit a copy of the report of Hon. Joseph E. McDonald, Commissioner to investigate the condition of the fraudulent Indiana 5 per cent. Stocks, with copies of vouchers numbers one and two, for expenditures and services of the Commissioner in the performance of the duties assigned him.

It will be seen that the Commissioner, since his report made at the last session of the General Assembly, has succeeded in procuring the surrender and cancellation of 27 of these fraudulent bonds, of the denomination of $10,000 each, and 21 of the same bonds of $3,000 each, making in the aggregate $375,000; and that in doing this he has expended, by the sanction of Governor Morton, the sum of $1,000, over and above his personal expenses and claim for services. It further appears by said report, that there still remains outstanding of these fraudulent issues, Stocks to the amount of $409,000.

Unquestionably there is no moral or legal liability on the part of the State to redeem these fraudulent issues, or any part thereof, and the theory upon which the said sum of $1,000 was expended, was that it was better to pay that amount to procure the surrender of the $375,000 before mentioned, than to prosecute a suit to compel their surrender. I am informed that the testimony of four or five witnesses would amply show the fraudulent character of the remaining Stocks, amounting to $409,000; and I respectfully recommend that authority be given to commence proceedings to perpetuate the testimony of the witnesses before alluded to.

Mr. McDonald expresses a willingness to appear before any committee to whom this subject may be referred for the purpose of explaining the propriety and necessity of the expenditure necessary to procure the surrender of the Stocks cancelled as aforesaid.

I therefore recommend that the subject be referred to the appropriate committee, and that Mr. McDonald be invited to appear before it, and give such further explanation as may be desired.

(Signed)

CONRAD BAKER,

Lieut. Governor, Acting as Governor.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 11, 1865.

To His Excellency, Governor Conrad Baker :

SIR:—On the 27th of February, 1865, the undersigned, Commissioner to investigate the condition of the fraudulent Indiana 5 per cent Stocks, reported the then condition of said Stocks to His Excellency, Governor O. P. Morton. By reference to that report it will be seen that the undersigned had succeeded in cancelling $362,000 of said Stocks, and that there remained still outstanding the following amounts, on deposit with the following banks and individuals :

Park Bank.....	$375 00
Atlantic Bank.....	15 00
Manhattan Savings Institution.....	70 00
James Crankhite.....	20 00
L. W. Jerome..	304 00
	$784 00

Since that time the undersigned has secured the surrender and cancellation of Bonds held by the Park Bank..... $375 00

Leaving still outstanding..... $409 00

Of this amount it will be seen that all but $105,000 are held by G. W. Jerome.

In making up a statement of the sums for which it is claimed that these Stocks are pledged to the present holders, the undersigned, in the former report, set down the amounts as follows :

Park Bank.....	$800 to $1,000
Atlantic Bank	9,000
Manhattan Savings Institution.....	20,000
James Cronkhite.....	3,000

Since that time the undersigned has been informed by James Cronkhite that the sum still due him from the estate of Samuel Hallett is $9,000, and that the Bonds held by him are the only security he has for said sum. As to the other sums in said statement, the undersigned has no correction to make.

To procure the cancellation of the bonds held by the Park Bank, the undersigned found it necessary to expend the sum of $1,000; this was done under the advice and consent of Governor Morton, and in the opinion of the undersigned was much better than to have attempted, at that time, to compel their cancellation by suit. The voucher for the amount so paid is herewith submitted.

As to such of these bonds as still remain uncanceled, there is no present prospect of their voluntary surrender.

As was stated in the former report, the holders profess to look to the State for the final payment of what is due from the estate of Samuel Hallett to them, before they will give the bonds up to the State.

The undersigned has always been of opinion that no legal liability rested upon the State on account of these bonds, and therefore has, at all times, discouraged the idea that the State would in any manner recognize their validity, and, in answer to all inquiries on the subject, has so stated to the parties holding them. He has no doubt but that the State may at any time, by suit against the holders, compel their cancellation as forgeries, but for reasons stated in his former report, as well as from want of any direct authority from the State to bring suit, no such suit has been brought. Another consideration operated to prevent this course from being taken. The time was near at hand when the State would have the right to call in all the 5 per cent. stocks issued by her, and it was thought that if the State should find herself in a condition to do so, that on and after the 19th day of January, 1866, all of that class of her securities would be taken up, either by redemption or the exchange for them of coupon bonds. In making these changes the fraudulent might be left in a condition where no further harm could arise to the State or any individual on account of them.

It will be seen that much the larger portion of these bonds outstanding are in the hands of G. W. Jerome. The other holders without doubt took those they hold without any knowlekg of their character, and it may be that Mr. Jerome was ignorant in the beginning that the stocks he was dealing in were not genuine, but the facts in the possession of the undersigned lead him to believe that long before the public exposure, Mr. Jerome was fully cognizant of their character. So far as the legal liability of the State is concerned, it can make no difference whether the parties dealt in those bonds in ignorance of their character or not, as there can be no property acquired in forged paper by any one. As to such paper there can be no innocent holder. Every one deals in it at his peril. Some of the holders have expressed a willingness to lose some part of their claims upon the estate of Samuel Hallet if the State would provide for the balance, and the undersigned has no doubt that all would willingly do so, but the undersigned has not felt at liberty to entertain any such proposition, and he refers to it now, that your Excellency may submit to the General Assembly the whole matter, and to consider how far the State might be willing to go to relieve such of the holders as have in ignorance become possessed of bonds apparently good, but in fact false and forged; also the propriety of bringing suit for their cancellation against such of the parties as may still persist in withholding them, or at least to take such steps as may be necessary to preserve as much of the testimony relating to them as is in parol.

Since the last report, in addition to the correspondence with parties in the city of New York, two trips have been made to the city in connection with this business, for which the undersigned submits his account. Should anything further, concerning this subject, come to the knowledge of the undersigned, he will take pleasure in submitting it, all of which is respectfully submitted.

J. E. McDONALD,

Commissioner.

The Committee on the State Prison South have had under consideration the subjects connected with that institution, and have directed me to report thereon as follows: The report of the Directors of the prison on the financial condition of the institution shows that on the 15th day of December, 1864, the (then) Warden of the prison reported the indebtedness thereof at $11,675.14; that at the last session of the General Assembly, $11,675.14 were appropriated to pay said indebtedness, and $12,000 to pay the current expenses, &c., for the year 1865, and the same amount for the year 1866; that on the 15th day of June, 1865, when the new administration began, all the appropriations which could be used in the year 1865, excep

A message from the Governor, by Mr. Jacobs, his private Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Governor to return to the House of Representatives, in which it originated, enrolled act No. 47, with the accompanying communication stating his objections thereto.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 14, 1865.

To the House of Representatives :

I herewith respectfully return to the House of Representatives, in which it originated, with my objections thereto, enrolled act No. 47 entitled, "an act to increase the powers of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners, and to authorize said Board to loan any moneys belonging to said fund, and to invest any moneys belonging to said fund, in Indiana State Bonds or Stocks, and providing for the cancellation of such bonds or stocks, and the reissuing of new non-negotiable bonds or stocks, payable to said fund."

Before proceeding to state my objections to the act, I beg leave to say, that a few hours after the bill was placed in my hands I received from the Senate a copy of a resolution of that body, directing the secretary of the Senate to inform the House that House bill No. 47 was passed by the Senate, as it come from the House without any amendment thereto, and that if any amendment was believed by the House to have been made by the Senate, such belief was unfounded, and that the Senate regards the said bill as having legally passed both branches as the same was when it passed the House, and in that form will become a law on being signed by the Speaker of the House, and the President of the Senate, and approved by the Governor.

As the House has not thought proper to ask a return of the bill to the end, that any mistake might be corrected, I, of course, am reduced to the necessity of considering the bill, in the shape in which it is placed in my hands, authenticated as it is, by the signature of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House; I will say however, in this connection, that from the best information I possess, it is not very material whether the amendments incorporated in the bill, as presented to me, were, or were not authorized by the Senate; they do not, in my judgment, essentially change the provisions of the bill, although the harmony of the language in which those provisions were couched, may have been impaired by the change. The title and first section of the bill submitted for my action, read as follows, viz :

An act to increase the powers of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners, and to authorize said board to loan any moneys belonging to said fund, and to invest any moneys belonging to said fund, in Indiana State Bonds or Stocks, and providing for the cancellation of such bonds or stocks, and the reissuing of new non-negotiable bonds or stocks, payable to said fund.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered, in their discretion, to purchase any Indiana State Bonds or Stocks, with any moneys belonging to said fund, (provided it shall be the duty of said board to purchase said State Bonds in preference to loaning to individuals,) whenever such bonds can be obtained upon satisfactory terms.

This section, interpreted by the title of the bill, I understand, to vest in the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners unlimited discretion to either invest the fund in the stocks of the State, or loan it to individuals without a single restriction as to the security that shall be required, the rate of interest that shall be reserved, the amount that shall be lent to each borrower, or the time for which the loans shall run. True the section does require the Commissioners to give the preference to investing the fund in the bonds of the State, whenever such bonds can be obtained on satisfactory terms, but as the Commissioners are the exclusive judges of what terms shall be deemed satisfactory, this requirement would practically give to the board an uncontrollable discretion as to the choice of investments, with this understanding of the provisions of the bill, I proceed to state my objections to its becoming a law :

By the 2d section of the 8th article of the Constitution, the Sinking Fund is made to constitute a part of the common school fund.

The 3d section of the same article is in these words :

“The principal of the common school fund shall remain a perpetual fund, which may be increased, but shall never be diminished; and the income thereof shall be inviolably, appropriated to the support of common schools.”

The 4th section of the same article reads as follows, viz :

“The General Assembly shall invest in some safe and profitable manner, all such portion of the common school fund as have not heretofore been intrusted to the several counties; and shall make provision by law for the distribution among the several counties of the interest thereof.”

The 6th section of the same article provides as follows :

“The several counties shall be held liable for the preservation of so much of said fund as may be intrusted to them, and for the payment of the annual interest thereon.”

These provisions of the Constitution sacredly dedicate the Sinking Fund to the education of the children of the State, and require the Legislature to provide for the safe and profitable investment of so much thereof as had not been, previously to the adoption of the Constitution, intrusted to the several counties of the State.

It is proposed by the bill, to give the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, an unrestricted discretion to lend more than half a million of dollars of this fund, without prescribing any security, any rate of interest, any limit to the time for which the loans shall be made, or as to the amount which shall be lent to each borrower. I consider such a discretion as not in accordance with that requirement of the Constitution which demands that the investment of the fund shall be made in some safe manner; and although unsafe investments sometimes prove profitable in their results, yet discreet men, viewing things in the future, and contemplating the possible, and not the actual issues of an investment, always consider that which lacks the assurance of safety to be unprofitable. It may be said that the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners is composed of intelligent, wise and upright men, and I grant it all. But the theory of our institutions is, that the best of men, when acting in official stations, require the restraint of law, and this is especially true, when they are intrusted with the management of the funds of the public. Hence, all the restrictions that are thrown around the legislative, judicial, and executive departments of the State government by the Constitution.

The General Assembly, too, is composed of intelligent, wise and upright men, and it would not be a violent presumption to suppose that it will always be thus composed, yet the framers of the Constitution have shown an unwillingness to intrust the safety of this fund to legislative discretion, by providing in the Constitution itself, that when it is confided to the counties to be lent to individuals, the counties shall be liable in their corporate capacities for principal and interest. I consider it, therefore, no imputation on the wisdom or integrity of the Sinking Fund Commissioners, for the Legislature to place them under restrictions, in the management of this fund, similar to those which the Constitution has imposed on the General Assembly itself. The Constitution requires the General Assembly to provide for the safe investment of the funds, and this is a duty, the performance of which is delegated to others, but this bill, by making no provisions for the safety of the fund, in the event of its being lent to individuals, attempts to throw upon the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners the burden of making regulations for its security. I would not willingly be the recipient of such a discretion as this bill proposes, and I cannot, in any measure, be officially responsible for its bestowal on any of my fellow men, however wise and good they may be.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners, in their report made to the Governor, on the 2d day of January last, after recommending the repeal of the law providing for the distribution of the fund among the several counties of the State, use the following language: "We also recommend the passage of a law authorizing this Board, in their discretion, to invest in Indiana State Stocks, or loan to individuals, upon the terms heretofore provided by law. A law absolutely requiring the investment of the fund in Indiana State Stocks would, we fear, tend to the defeat of such investment by raising the market price of the stocks."

The wisdom of the suggestion contained in the sentence last quoted cannot be doubted, and the propriety of investing the fund in the stock of the State is equally unquestionable. I object to this bill, however, because it does not embody the recommendation of the Sinking Fund Commissioners by requiring them to lend the fund, if lent at all, upon the terms heretofore provided by law." The bill proposes to revive no former law, prescribes no terms itself upon which the loans shall be made, and the only other law now in force authorizes not the loan of the fund by the Commissioners, but requires it to be distributed to the several counties, to be lent by the Auditor and Treasurer of such counties upon certain terms prescribed in the law. The regulations governing the County Auditors and Treasurers in the loan of the fund, under the act of 1859, would have no application to the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners under the provisions of this bill, should it become a law. The reluctance with which I dissent from the deliberately expressed views of the General Assembly is diminished by the consideration that if the objections before stated are not well taken, the same vote that was originally required to pass the bill is competent to overrule these objections, and by the further consideration, that if the reasons assigned for returning the bill shall be deemed to be valid, there is yet ample time to pass a new bill on the same subject, containing the proper restrictions. If, therefore, this bill should become a law, and the possible evils before indicated ensue, or, if failing to become a law, the fund should remain idle for want of proper legislation authorizing its investment, I respectfully submit that the result cannot, in either event, be justly chargeable to this department.

Mr. Newcomb, from the joint select committee on a portion of the Governor's Message, &c., made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The joint select committee to whom was referred the Message of the Governor, as to the necessity of purchasing more secure accommodations for the public offices, and the funds, records and important documents of the State, report, that although it will form a part in construction of a new State House, amply and securely to provide for all the State offices, and the Supreme Court, the heavy calls on the people in consequence of the rebellion, and the high price of building at present, forbid even the commencement of any permanent structure now for these objects. The committee have, therefore, carefully considered the alternative presented by the Governor, of purchasing the building and lot in the center of the city, offered for sale by the Bank of the State, as the most safe and suitable building and lot which can be had, and which can be readily sold when the State erects a permanent State House, without any probable loss to the State. There are four vaults in the building, each of which affords safe protection from fires, and one of which is probably the best anti-burglar vault in the West. The building is well constructed, elevated and easy of access, having six rooms on the first floor, and four, besides a circular hall, on the second floor. Although more room would be desirable for the State offices, it is believed it can be comfortably used for the present ; and also, that chambers and two safe vaults can be used by the Supreme Court, relieving them from renting upper rooms in the city, with their papers and books continually liable to loss and destruction. In this behalf, the irreparable loss to the people of Kentucky, by the burning of their Supreme Court papers, should be a warning as to the danger of our further neglect.

That such sum be borrowed of the Sinking Fund by the State, at interest, not over seven per cent., as will cover the cost of any purchase which may be made of such property, for which the committee recommend that not over $36,000 be paid. The State is now paying, for the unsafe and scattered rooms for her offices and Supreme Court, rent which amounts to seven per cent. upon $53,600, being $3,750 per annum.

The committee recommend the prompt sale of the old Treasury lot and building, at not less than $22,000, which is less than it is worth ; the proceeds to be applied toward liquidating the needful loan from the Sinking Fund, and reducing the amount of rent payable by interest on the remainder, to less than $1,000 per annum, in place of $3,750, as now paid by the State.

The committee, therefore, submit and recommend the prompt passage of the accompanying bill, (No. 327,) to effect the above objects.

Which report was laid on the table.

House bill No. 327. A bill providing for the more secure and less expensive accommodations of the officers of State, and the Judges of the Supreme Court; for procuring the means therefor by loan of the Sinking Fund, and for effecting a sale of the State Treasury lot towards reimbursing such loans.

Which was read a first time and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Dunham, from the Committee on Ways and Means, by consent, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred House bill No. 158, with engrossed Senate amendments, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report it back to the House with the following amendments:

1. Strike out of line 3, in section one, the word "sixty-six," and insert "sixty-nine."

2. 3. Amend the third section by striking out the words "State and county taxes," in line 5, and insert "all taxes levied by State, county and township authority, through which such road passes."

4. Amend the fourth section by adding, to the end thereof, these words: "And shall add fifty per cent. to such assessment, as a penalty for failing or refusing to comply with the provisions of this act." At line 2, by reading "1859" for "1856."

5. Amend section six by inserting in line 3, after the word "counties" the words, "townships, towns and cities;" and in the 10th line insert, after the word "paid," the words, "to the State, counties, townships, towns and cities." In line 12, for the word "taxes," read "basis;" and add after the word "equalization," these words: "Which equalization and assessments are hereby declared valid."

6. Strike out of section seven all after the word "pass," in the 1st line, to the word "may," in the 5th line; and when so amended, to recommend its passage.

Which report, with amendments, was laid upon the table.

House bill No. 158. An act to secure a just valuation and appraisalment of all railroad property within this State; to legalize the valuation, assessment, adjustment and payment of taxes for such property, made subsequent to the year 1859.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That all Railroad Companies having the whole, or any portion, of their lines of railroad within this State, shall, on or before the first Monday in April, 1866, and on the first Mondays of April thereafter, in such years in which there shall be a general appraisalment of the real property of the State, furnish to the Appraiser of each county through which their respective roads may run, a written statement of the length of the line of such roads within his county, and also a statement of all the machine shops, depots, depot grounds, rolling machinery, and other property of such company, used by it in doing the business thereof, within this State, and gross earnings, and also of the average net earnings of such road, over and above the current necessary expenses in transacting its business, and for repairs during the five years immediately preceding such statement; which shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the proper officer of such company making such statement.

Sec. 2. The Appraisers of the county through which said road may run, if through more than one county, shall, within thirty days after such first Monday in April, meet at such time and place, on the line of such road, as shall be designated by the Auditor of State, or, if he fails to designate and notify said Appraisers of such time and place of meeting within twenty days after such first Monday in April, then at such time and place as a majority of said Appraisers shall designate; and said Appraisers, or a majority of them, shall then ascertain and appraise the value of said road per mile by first making a valuation of the said railroad, and all its fixed property, situated within this State, including all its depots, depot grounds, machine shops, and other buildings erected thereon, and such proportion of the rolling stock and movable property used in operating the whole road, if part thereof is without this State, as the length of the railway in this State bears to the entire length thereof. within and without this State; and in estimating the entire value of such railroad and its equipments, the Appraisers shall take into consideration its location for business, the competition of other transportation routes, by rail or by water, its earnings, expenses and repairs, the then present condition of its road-way and equipments, and its value as an investment, without reference to its cost or indebtedness; Provided, That all lands owned or held in trust by any Railroad Company, and not actually needed or used in operating the road, shall be assessed for taxation, and the taxes collected in the counties where they may be situated, in the same manner as taxes are assessed and collected on the lands of natural persons; but the rolling machinery shall be deemed to be embodied in the appraisalment by the mile.

Sec. 3. The Appraisers, after making their valuation, as aforesaid, shall then apportion by the mile the whole value of the railroad, and its equipments, thus ascertained, and estimated to the counties respectively, in proportion to the length of road in each county through which it runs, and such value by the mile shall be the basis for the assessment of State and county taxes, according to the rate of taxation for other property.

Sec. 4. If any such Railroad Company shall fail or refuse to furnish to the Appraiser of the proper county the statement provided for in the first section of this act, such Appraisers shall make out such statement from the best information they can obtain; and to enable them so to do they are hereby authorized to examine, on oath or affirmation, any and all persons whom they may suppose to have knowledge of any facts necessary to be ascertained in making such statement.

Sec. 5. If any Railroad Company shall be dissatisfied with the valuation so made by said County Appraisers, such company may, provided they have complied with the provisions of the first sections of this act, appeal therefrom to the State Board of Equalization, at its first session thereafter, by serving a written or printed notice, sealed with its corporate seal, on the Auditor of State, to that effect, not less than ten days before the meeting of such Board; and said Board of Equalization is hereby empowered to examine the alleged grievances, and grant such relief as may be deemed just.

Sec. 6. In all cases where the taxes of any such Railroad Companies, for any year previous to the year 1856, have at any time been road, or parts thereof, so held, with its fixtures, and the property used in operating the same, shall be liable for the payment of such taxes, in the same manner as railroad property is, in other cases, made liable for taxes properly assessed against the same.

Sec. 9. All laws and parts of laws inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed, and as there is uncertainty in the meaning and effect of the laws previously in force, which ought to be immediately removed, an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act, and it is hereby declared to be in force from and after its passage.

MR. SPEAKER :

The appropriations made for meeting the necessary expenses of the Blind Asylum, at the late regular session of this body, have proved inadequate, and it has at this time less than one thousand dollars at its command with which to meet the deficits of the present year. It is imperative that the sum of $2,500 be appropriated to make the necessary repairs to the building in the way of putting thereon a new roof, &c. Five thousand dollars are required to meet the current expenses of the Asylum up to February 1, 1866. For the ensuing year, commencing Feb. 1, 1866, it already has an appropriation of $20,000.

The President of the Board of Trustees, and the Superintendent, aver that this amount, basing their calculations on the ordinary expenses of the year just closing, will be too small by at least $7,500; your committee, therefore, recommend the appropriation of the above sums, and that the Committee on Ways and Means be instructed to incorporate the amount in the specific appropriation bill.

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, (the Senate concurring therein,) that it is the sense of this General Assembly, in reference to the existing state of things in Mexico, that the United States should respectfully, but firmly assert and maintain, against foreign governments, at all proper times and places, and by means entirely adequate to effect it, the separate and independent right of that people, without any foreign interference, influence or control whatever, to continue, or establish and maintain the government and policy of its own choice, and especially, to assert and maintain, that this question shall not be allowed to be effected by the introduction, by foreign governments, of foreign levies, mercenaries, arms or military provisions into that country ; and that every future or further attempt at such influence, control or interference, will be justly regarded as aggressive and injurious to our own policy and interests, and to ourselves.

Be it further Resolved as the sense of this General Assembly, That without any purpose of forsaking the just and honorable obligations of national friendship and comity, as required by public law, and especially, when strengthened by treaties of amity, by which the United States has been steadily governed, but as a means of compelling conformity to the same rule by other governments, it is the duty of the United States, until the obligation of the rule is acknowledged to apply to such other governments, the same construction of neutral and belligerent rights, as to their internal and external enemies, they have applied to us in derogation of the public law.

OFFICE OF STATE LIBRARIAN,) Indianapolis, Dec., 20, 1865.)

To the Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives:

GENTLEMAN:—In accordance with the resolution of your honorable body, I herewith transmit to you my report of the stationery account of the officers and members of the House:

From the fact that purchases have been made for both branches of the General Assembly, the bills have been furnished to either House, dividing as near as possible the pro rata expense of both bodies.

Many items upon the bills of stationery furnished the Committee of the House, were used by the Senate, and vice versa. Many articles upon bills allowed in the Senate have been used by the House. Duplicate copies of all stationery bills are upon file in the Library.

You will find in the accompanying tables the various articles furnished to the members of the House, each under the appropriate head, and the total amounts carried out.

It will be seen that the Clerks of the House have managed their departments with the most rigid economy, having used during the entire session, but $235.30.

We have kept a faithful record of the account of each member which can be seen in the Library by any one who may wish to examine our books.

Thankful for the expressions of good will received at your hands, and the free and friendly feeling that has existed between us in our mutual relations.

I am, as ever,
respectfully yours.

B. F. FOSTER,
State Librarian.

We had on hand in the Library in the beginning of the session a large amount of stationery turned over by the Clerks of the last General Assembly. This we exhausted before making any purchase. The combined amount of stationery, &c., furnished both branches of the Legislature is $3,271.49. The amount purchased, as per bills rendered, is $2,744.85. Thus leaving $526.64 furnished from paper on hand. We have now in the Library about two hundred dollars worth of stationery, which, in addition to that placed upon the desks of members at the opening of the session, will make near $1,000 worth furnished from the stock on hand at the beginning of the session.

Trusting that the above report will prove satisfactory to your honorable body, I am, as ever,

Respectfully yours,

B. F. FOSTER,
State Librarian.

SPECIAL ORDER OF THE DAY.

Mr. Newcomb's resolution was informally laid over.

Mr. Cowgill, from the special committee appointed to act with a like committee from the Senate, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee of the House, appointed to act with a like committee from the Senate in reference to a resolution of the House adopted March 4, 1865, and a similar resolution of the Senate March 6, 1865, have had the same under consideration, and find the following to be the facts :

When the resolution was offered in the House it was expected that four volumes would contain the report and that 2000 copies would be a sufficient number.

The resolution of the Senate did not contemplate a work of the kind under the resolutions.

The Adjutant General has made his report and placed the manuscript in the hands of the printer, who has printed 4,500 copies of one volume and about one third of another containing the roster of the officers. The other volumes will contain the history of the non-commissioned officers and privates. In reference to the number of copies the committee would recommend that of the remaining volumes the same number, to-wit, 4,500 be printed and that they be disposed of in the manner prescribed by the following concurrent resolution now in the senate.

First. Fifteen hundred copies to be retained by the Adjutant General for sale, as provided in said concurrent resolution.

Second. One copy to each of the Township Libraries in this State.

One to each County Clerk Auditor and Recorder.

One to each County and other Public Library.

One to each Adjutant General of the States and Territories.

One to each State Library.

One to each member of the General Assembly.

Fifty copies for the use of the Departments at Washington.

Twenty copies for the use of the State officers.

One to each of the leading governments of Europe.

And the remainder to be deposited in the State Library for preservation and safe keeping.

The following communication has been received from W. R. Holloway, Esq., State Printer, which is appended to and made a part of this report :

INDIANAPOLIS, IND, December 14th, 1865.

HON. D. C. BRANHAM,

Chairman Committee on Adjutant General's Report :

The third volume is already in press, and about one third of an edition of 4,500 copies printed. If three thousand copies are ordered of any of the volumes not yet printed, the price will be two dollars ($2.00) per volume.

MR. SPEAKER:

I am directed by the Governor to inform the House of Representatives that he has approved and signed the following Enrolled Bills thereof, viz:

House bill No. 187, entitled "an act authorizing and requiring the Commissioners of the State Debt Sinking Fund to make settlement with the Sinking Fund Commissioners for $422,000 of the War Loan Bonds, purchased by the Sinking Fund Commissioners with moneys belonging to the Common School fund; also, the sum of $165,000, moneys belonging to the Common School fund, advanced by the Sinking Fund to pay interest on the State Debt; also, the sum of $33,536.09, Saline Fund, and $22,947, belonging to the Bank Tax Fund; directing the transfer to the Common School Fund of the State of Indiana of so much of the 2½ and 5 per cent. certificates of stock of the State as will, at the price paid for the same, amount to the aggregate of the sums mentioned in this act, authorizing and directing the proper officers of State to issue a bond of the State for the amount thereof, bearing six per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, principal payable and redeemable at the pleasure of the State; directing the Treasurer of State to pass to the credit of the General Fund the several amounts herein specified, and declaring that an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act."

Also, House bill No. 328, entitled "an act making specific appropriations for the years 1859, 1861, 1863, 1865 and 1866.

I am directed also to inform the House that bill No. 158 entitled "an act to secure a just valuation, and taxation of all Railroad property within this State, to legalize the valuation, assessment, adjustment, and payment of taxes for such property made subsequent to the year 1859," was presented to the Governor on the 18th inst, and not having been returned to the House in which it originated with his objections within three days from and after its reception the same has become a law without executive approval

I am further directed to inform the House that enrolled bill No. 239, entitled "an act making general appropriations for the year 1866, repealing certain sections of an act therein named and declaring an emergency," will be approved and filed in the office of the Secretary of State within the time limited by the constitution for that purpose.

By the 22d section of said act, the Auditing Committee are only empowered to examine and audit the claims pending before the Committee at the time of the taking effect of the act. It is highly important that certain claims for services in the Indiana Legion should be filed before the taking effect of the act to the end that such thereof as may be allowed may be presented to the General Government for reimbursement to the State, before the meeting of the next General Assembly.

I have directed the State Paymaster Major Stearns Fisher, to prepare and file such claims immediately, which will be done to-day, after which the said bill will be approved and filed.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Foulke, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Corporations, made the following majority report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The Committee on Corporations, to whom was referred House bill No. 250, have had the same under consideration, a majority have directed me to report the same back and recommend that the same be indefinitely postponed.

Which was agreed to, and the bill indefinitely postponed.

By unanimous consent, the regular order of business being suspended,

Mr. Buskirk, from the Committee on Corporations made the following minority report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The undersigned, minority of the Committee on Corporations to whom was referred House bill No. 250, "an act to repeal an act approved March 2, 1865, to discourage the keeping of useless dogs and providing penalties for the violation of said act, and repealing an act to license dogs, approved March 11, 1865, and providing that nothing in this act entitled an act for the protection of sheep, approved June 15, 1852, being unable to concur with the recommendation of the majority of the Committee that said bill do lie upon the table, desire to submit the following minority report. The minority of your Committee are satisfied that under the act of March 2, 1865, none but useless and sheep killing dogs can be taxed, although a different construction has been placed on the said act. The minority of your Committee can not perceive upon what principle, the owners of good dogs can be taxed, because some other person may own useless and sheep-killing dogs. The tax though small is not regarded by many of our best farmers with favor, and many persons engaged in sheep raising assert that if the dogs, and especially the hounds are killed off, that the foxes will kill more sheep than the dogs. The minority of your committee concede that useless and sheep killing dogs should be killed without any liability against the person killing them, and that the owners of such dogs should be held liable for all damages done by such dogs. The minority of your Committee believe that hounds should be preserved to protect sheep, pigs and poultry, from foxes and other animals, that when thieves and robbers are committing their depredations all over the State, that the faithful watch dogs should not be taxed or killed off, that when every house and barn in the State is infested with rats, that the rat-terriers should not be taxed or killed.”

The minority of your Committee believe that the act should be repealed.

Which minority report was laid on the table.

By unanimous consent, the usual order of business being suspended,

Mr. Prather, from the Committee on Federal Relations, made the following majority report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred two memorials, numerously signed by citizens of this State, protesting against the pardon of Jefferson Davis, also, a memorial from the Loyal Young Men's Association, of North Venon, Jennings County, Indiana, in relation to the trial of Davis and other leading rebels, also, the resolution offered by the Representative from Perry County, on the same subject, have had the said petition, memorials and resolution under consideration, and a majority of the committee have directed me to report as follows :

In the judgement of a majority of your committee, a rebellion in the interests of Slavery against such a Government as that of the United States, has already been pronounced by the civilized world as a crime against humanity and the enlightenment of the age, and posterity will emphasise the judgment which the present generation has already recorded. The criminality of the attempt to overthrow the Government and erect within its jurisdiction, a hostile government based on the corner stone of human slavery, was only excelled by the barbarity and brutality with which the war that ensued was prosecuted against the loyal people of the United States. The rebellion having been overthrown and the power and authority of the government vindicated and established, it only remains to be decided whether the offence of the authors of the revolt was a political eccentricity, or the blackest crime that ever disgraced the history of civilization. If the former, a humane and magnanimous government should overlook the offence, but if the latter, the violated laws of the country, the blood of our slaughtered braves, and the security of future generations demand that the authors of so great a crime should not escape. The Constitution of the United States defines treason against the United States to consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. Can any man doubt that Jefferson Davis and his confederates did levy war against the United States, surely no one of sane mind would hazard such an assertion. If then these men levied war against the United States, the propriety of their trial for treason is unquestionable, unless we subscribe to the doctrine that "one murder makes a villain, whilst a thousand constitutes the hero." In the opinion of a majority of your committee, the fact that, those who waged war against the United States, were so numerous as to render it impracticable as well as undesirable that they should all receive the punishment which justly attaches to the crimes of which they have been guilty, affords no reason why the full penalty of the law should not be visited upon the chief authors and prosecutors of the rebellion. The other reason which is sometimes assigned for the release of Davis and his leading associates, namely, that they owed a paramount allegiance to their respective States, and that when these States attempted to secede, and defied the authority and power of the Government, they were bound to obey their States, as against the National Government, is equally untenable. If there were no other reason for the trial of Davis and his associates, the fact that this doctrine of paramount State allegiance is still urged in some quarters as a complete and full defence to all the enormities of which they have been guilty, would be under such a trial, a moral and political necessity. Let us then insist that war against the Government of the United States, no matter how numerous those engaged in it may be, or by what authority they act, shall be decided by the National Tribunal of last resort to be treason against the Government, and when this decision is made, let the penalty prescribed by law, fall upon the chief traitor and his most conspicuous associates; then, and then only, will the law be vindicated and the public safety in the future assured; then, and then only, will our own people, and the people of other nations who are looking to our example, be assured that the embodiment of the national will in the constitution, declaring, "That the Constitution, and the laws of the United States made in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land, and that the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution and laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding," is a living principal and not a dead letter.

The majority of your committee therefore respectfully report back to the House, the resolution offered by the Representative from Perry county and recommend its passage by the House.

Your committee also recommend the passage of the additional resolution which is herewith respectfully submitted :

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That a law should be immediately passed by Congress, allowing any person convicted of treason against the United States, to prosecute a writ of error to the Supreme Court of the United States, to the end that the law of treason may be settled by that tribunal.

Mr. Coffroth, from the Committee on Federal Relations, made the following minority report :

And be it further resolved, That the said Jefferson Davis, who is hereby declared guilty, shall be hanged upon a "Sour Apple Tree," and that during the said evangelical performance, Chaplain Lozier shall sing the "Glory Hallujah Hymn," and William Lloyd Garrison shall pronounce the benediction as follows: "The Constitution of the United States — a league with hell, and a covenant with death," to which Wendall Phillips shall respond, "So mote it be—I have labored nineteen years to break up this accursed Union, and now thank God, it is broken."

Resolved further, That Salmon P. Chase, Henry W. Beecher and Beast Butler are hereby appointed hangmen.

Mr. Prather moved further to amend, by making Mr. Coffroth the chief mourner for the occasion.

Mr. Brown offered the following amendment:

Insert after the word "Jefferson Davis," Horace Greely, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Wendall Phillips, Salmon P. Chase, Beast Butler, Garret Smith, Union Slide Banks, Priest Cheever and George W. Julian.

By unanimous consent, the regular order being suspended, the select committee to whom was referred Senate Joint Resolution No. 15, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred Senate Joint Resolution No. 15, respectfully report that they have had said Joint Resolution under consideration and recommend its adoption.

Mr. Humphreys made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The special committee to whom was referred House resolution No. 28, on the subject of Common Pleas Courts, have directed me to report that they have not had time to duly consider the same, and therefore recommend that said resolution be laid on the table.

By unanimous consent, the order of business being suspended,

Mr. Buskirk offered the following :

Resolved, That the thanks of this House are due, and are hereby, tendered to Cyrus T. Nixon, Principal Clerk, Robert O. Dormer, Assistant Clerk, and David W. Krutts, Reading Clerk, for the ability, efficiency and fidelity with which they have discharged their official duties.

Which was agreed to.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Foulke, from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The undersigned members of the select committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 6, establishing an Agricultural College, would respectfully report that they do not concur in the report made by the Chairman of said committee so far as said bill establishes the location of said College at Bloomington, and creates a commission to locate any part of the lands donated the State.

Which report was laid on the table.

By unanimous consent, the regular order of business being suspended,

Mr. Hogate, from the Committee on Agriculture, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The Committee on Agriculture, to whom was referred House bill No. 298, "a bill to prevent the running at large of swine, prescribing penalties therefor," have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, with the recommendation that the emergency clause be stricken out and when so amended recommend that the bill do pass.

Which report was laid on the table.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Branham, from the Joint Select Committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee appointed on the part of this House to act in conjunction with a like committee on the part of the Senate to wait on his excellency Governor Baker, and ascertain whether he had any further communication to make to this House, beg leave to report that they have waited on His Excellency and he has directed us to inform this House that he has no further communication to make.

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Wilson, their Secretary.

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the President of the senate to inform the House that the Senate has passed the following resolution, in which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested :

Resolved by the Senate the House concurring, That this General Assembly do now adjourn sine die.

Mr. Brown, by unanimous consent moved to take up the foregoing message from the Senate.

Which was agreed to.

On motion by Mr. Newcomb, the resolution of the Senate was concurred in.

Whereupon the Speaker made the following remarks:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

The effect of the concurrent resolution just agreed upon, is to end the present session of the General Assembly.

Before announcing the result, it is proper I should ask your indulgence while I repeat my thanks for the kind, considerate and uniform support in presiding over your deliberations.

What has been done—and it is much—is now committed to the consideration of those we represent, and with an honest confidence it will be approved.

In separating for the last time from this place of public service, we shall bear away much respect and affection for each other, formed here; and I say it myself, that while many will be remembered in love, there will be—and there is no mental reservation in this—malice for none.

I commend you all to the welcome and embraces of your homes and friends and families.

And then declared the House of Representatives adjourned sine die.

CYRUS T. NIXON,
Principal Clerk.

R. O. DORMER,
Assistant Clerk.
